Compiler's Preface

The unbounded Grace of Jagadguru Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal, Sankaracharya of Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham has made me take up the impossible task of compiling his Vijaya Yatras based on Sri Pulavar Ma.Jayasenthilnathan's book in Tamil 'Sri Jayendra Vijayam' – parts 1 and 2. The contents of the two volumes have been assembled and abridged. Information has also been updated, mainly in the Appendices based on other sources.

A multifaceted personality, simplicity personified- that is our Swamigal in a nutshell. His one trait, which none, who has had his fleeting darshan even once, will miss is his geniality and the infectious and bewitching smile on his lustrous face. The revered Paramacharya Sri Chandrasekharendra Saraswathi Swamigal had said that he himself was the "Iccha Sakthi" and his disciple was the "Kriya Sakthi". This was with reference to how his devoted disciple carried out his every wish. Soon after his becoming Peethadhipati, Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal wrote a treatise on Brahma Sutra Bhashya, titled 'Gurupriya', as desired by his Guru. Known for clarity, cogency and brevity, Gurupriya is intended to serve as a refresher to the serious student engaged in manana, contemplation.

Sri Acharya Swamigal has become the prime mover over the years in projects that have far - reaching impact in manifold areas of Vedic education, maintenance of heritage including temples, social welfare, health, child care, and village crafts and education. “That I have been there for 50 years is of no consequence. What is more important is what has been done for our people”- so said Parama Pujya Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal, on commencement of the Peetharohana Swarna Jayanthi Mahotsav way back in 2003. Sri Bala Swamigal has said: “His attempts to make people realise the importance of service to the communities, society and to the nation by taking to heart that MANAVA SEVA IS MAHESWARA SEVA, is the crown of his services. His vision has never been narrow or restricted to any particular area, but to the world in general and the nation in particular. His thought and activities have always been for national integration.” This book covering his early life, Vijaya Yatras upto the year 1987, and his teachings and Srimatham activities brings out all the above facets of his personality.

Placed with all humility at the Lotus Feet of Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamiji during the Sahasradina Sathabhishekam Celebrations.

Introduction by

Pulavar Ma.JAYASENTHILNATHAN in Tamil book

Under the presidentship of Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal, myself and writer Sri Sandilyan spoke on the second day of the Paavai Festival in Kumarakottam, Kanchipuram in 1965. I spoke on Tiruvembavai. After the programme was over, Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal gave me Prasadam, enquired about my job and blessed me. This day was a special day in my life; a golden day that changed the course of my life.

After many years, Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya Swamigal and Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal returned to Kanchipuram on completion of their tour. As per the tradition of Srimatham, the two Acharyas would first take bath in Sarvatirtham, halt a while in the Mukthi Mandapam on its banks and then enter the town. A large crowd had gathered at Sarvatirtham. Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya arrived, took bath, performed rituals and proceeded to Mukthi Mandapam. Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal also completed his bath and rituals soon thereafter and came up to the shore. I stood at a distance with some trepidation in mind and palms joined above my head, having removed my shirt.

Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal blessed those who fell at his feet and, seeing me at some distance, he gestured to me to come near. I went close to him. He said, 'You are Senthil!'; the wonder in my mind knew no bounds. Felt like electric current passing through body. What a powerful memory! He had seen me just once many years ago in a festival. So many years had passed thereafter! It is impossible to estimate the number of people he would have met and blessed in many different places in all these years. My body and mind swelled on the thought of his power of memory in calling me by name after a gap of so many years. I forgot myself, fell at his feet. He left. I followed with love as if in trance. From that day onwards I live my life with continuous contemplation of those holy feet.

Attracted by his look of Gnana, I went to Srimatham frequently thereafter for darshan. I stood like 'a destitute in front of an affluent person'. He used to teach now and then excellent morals and religious guidelines and tit-bits; I used to enjoy listening. He improved me by such exhortations. This blessing continues even now.

Then there was 'Sadas' in Kanchipuram that particular year. I performed the work assigned to me by Sri Swamigal in that connection as per instructions. This association developed into writing down his verbal teachings, printing them, sending by post etc. Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal thought of preparation of textbooks to inculcate religious feelings in small children. I undertook the responsibility of putting his ideas into writing and giving them a suitable shape; I worked day and night. This led in due course to publication of the book 'Aravazhi Vachakam' (Book of Path of Dharma) in three parts. This textbook is still being followed in nursery classes in many schools in Tamil Nadu.

This was followed by publication of the book 'Sri Kamakashi Devi' by me, explaining the greatness of the Kamakshi temple in Kanchipuram as instructed by Sri Acharya Swamigal. He ordered me to lay the first copy of this book at the Sannidhi of Sri Adisankara Bhagavatpada in the Kamakshi temple. That day was 15th September 1969. That was the day when the Acharya blessed by sending me a Rudrakshamala and a silk shawl by way of honour from Srimatham, bestowed on me in the Sannidhi of Sri Adisankara. My services grew further from that day. Frequency of trips to Srimatham camps also grew.

Once Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya Swamigal and Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal camped in Karvetnagar in Chittur district, Andhra Pradesh. I was called there. It was then that an organization called 'Hindu Samaya Manram' (Hindu Religious Forum) was established by the Acharya in the Sannidhi of Sri Venugopala Swamy there. Sri N.S.S.Manradiyar and others had been called to that meeting. Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal ordered at that time that I should serve as the convener of the newly-formed organization and ensure compliance of his instructions from time to time. From that day I have been performing the duties related to that organization throughout the state of Tamil Nadu as instructed by the Guru.

I had the opportunity of delivering a series of discourses on Kanda Puranam during the Skanda Shashti celebrations in the year 1970. On the final day on the evening of 4th November, Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal blessed me with the title of 'Sencholmani' (Jewel of eloquent speech) and a silk shawl. These kinds of blessings of, contact with and services to the Guru have continued to this day. I have now got the opportunity of writing about the Vijaya Yatra (Tour of Triumph) of Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal.

Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya incarnated in the year 'Jaya'. After 60 years 'Jaya' year came again. It appears that he had this in mind when he initiated Sri Pudu Periyaval with the Diksha nama of 'Jayendra Saraswathi' formed by adding 'Jaya' to 'Indra Saraswathi'! It is due to the Guru's grace that all public services undertaken by Sri Pudu Periyaval from that day till now have succeeded (jaya means victory) brilliantly to the admiration of all. What can equal the Guru's blessing on this earth!

It is not possible to describe or quantify the great services rendered by Sri Swamigal in the history of Srimatham. Though we shall refer to them in the Yatra notes (in the book) in many places, it is but appropriate to mention a few important aspects here.

While camping with Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya in Orikkai village near Kanchipuram, Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal celebrated the Shashtiabdapoorthi of Sri Paramacharya Swamigal on a grand scale. He also conducted the Silver Jubilee celebrations of Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya's ascension to the Peetham in a grand manner. He performed Kanakabhishekam with his own hands to Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya in Chinna Kanchipuram (Vishnu Kanchi) in 1956 and in Chennai in 1957. 'Pattina Pravesam' (ceremonial entry into city) of the two Acharyas took place very magnificently at that time in Chennai.

Golden covers (kavachas) were offered for the idols of Sri Kamakshi Ambal and Sri Adi Sankara Bhagavatpada in Kanchipuram. A necklace of a thousand gold coins was offered to Sri Kamakshi Ambal. Those who have darshan of Kamakshi on Fridays can see this necklace even now. Diamond covers were offered to the 'Kunchitapadam' and 'Abhayahasta' of Sri Nataraja at Chidambaram. Golden Vimanam was raised in Sri Kamakshi temple in Kanchipuram by covering three of the five storeys in the vimana with gold.

Branches of Srimatham are being established in many places. Sri Sankara Mandapam in Triveni Sangamam in Allahabad, Sri Sankara temple and Gita Ratha Mandapam in Kurukshetra and Kirti Mandapam in Kaladi were erected. Classes for religious training of teachers, Stotra classes for students, many different competitions and prizes, countless pamphlets on religious topics for free distribution, unbounded assistance to temples for many activities like renovation etc., social welfare schemes, Veda Pathasalas, Devara classes, many different trusts etc. – the Acharya is engaged in innumerable acts of service.

Those who have had darshan of the divine manifestation of Jagadguru Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal - Sri Pudu Periyaval even once will realize his greatness. Whatever be the nature of the person having darshan, if he has darshan even once, he will long to have more and more of it. Captivating smile, compassionate face, attractive form, eyes exuding the light of Gnana, dharmic tendency to keep giving in unlimited manner, attitude of renunciation with firm attachment to the Vedic path and worship, ease of conversing in different languages with different people, utter simplicity, lofty aim of helping the socially backward, foresight of bringing together all Indian nationals through spirituality – all this in one integrated form is Jagadguru Sri Pudu Periyaval. Details of various service activities rendered by Srimatham are covered in Appendix. One can refer to it for details.

Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal is the very embodiment of Gnana, the intellectual tree locally grown, who travels across the country, performing Poojas and worship, and guiding devotees through Gnana and exemplary conduct. This book ‘SRI JAYENDRA VIJAYAM’ covers his life history, details of his Vijaya Yatras and the Guru Parampara of Srimatham. Details of tours and news digests, gathered by Sri Madhava Sastri of Srimatham greatly helped me in writing this book. My grateful thanks to him. In what way can I do anything in return for the Guru’s grace, which made the insignificant me to complete this job! May I clasp those Holy Feet as my great fortune and live in their shadow! May all go through this holy book and reap the sacred fruit!

The spiritual world is ever indebted to Vanathi Publishers, who undertook the responsibility of printing and publishing this book on the instructions of the Guru. Our heartfelt thanks to Sri Tirunavukkarasu, Proprietor of Vanathi Publishers.

Guru alone is the guide.

Yours lovingly,

Kanchipuram

LIFE HISTORY OF SRI KANCHI KAMAKOTI PEETHADHIPATI

JAGADGURU SRI SANKARACHARYA

SRI JAYENDRA SARASWATHI SWAMIGAL

Early Part

Becomes father and mother; is the ultimate sanctuary available here

Bestows endless bliss on us

Is verily our life; our refuge

King of Grace; such is our Guru.

Bharata Desa, the Guru of the universe

Of all the countries of the world, our Bharata Desa is the most sacred and purifying land; living source of spirituality. It has holy rivers like the Ganga, and Bhagavan's Avatara Sthalas; many great Gnanis, religious teachers and spiritualists have incarnated here; it has many temples housing images of Bhagavan, who gave darshan to many Maharishis doing severe penance. Our forefathers have called our Bharata Desa as the preceptor of all nations of the world.

The South, which did severe penance

The Southern part of Bharat is glorified as very sacred as it has many wonderful temples of limitless splendour; Nayanmars and Alvars have enjoyed and sung the glory of Bhagavan; the tradition of Gnana has grown and come down to us from ancient times. This is why Sekkizhar has called this part as 'the South, which did severe penance' in his Periya Puranam. In this Southern part, ruled by the three great dynasties (Chola, Chera and Pandya), Thanjavur district is unique in greatness. It is this Thanjavur land, which is extolled due to the river Kaveri, hailed as one of the seven holiest rivers in Bharat and which has the distinction of 'not failing even if the heavens fail' and which is reverentially called 'Ponni' (river of gold); it has kshetras equal in merit to Kashi – like Tiruvaiyaru, Tiruvidaimarudur, Mayiladithurai, Svetharanyam (Tiruvankadu), Srivanchiyam (Chayavanam); it has Tiruvarur, which bestows Mukthi on those who are born there. This area known as Chola Mandalam in earlier times is in fact the rice bowl of the South. This Thanjavur district, which has the distinction of nurturing those who perform yagas, great public services like Annadanam etc., added to its glory by bestowing a Gnanaguru on this world.

The greatly fortunate Mahadeva Iyer

There is a village known as Sattanur on the banks of river Vennar in Thanjavur district. This village is nowadays called as 'Thannir kunram Sattanur'. About two hundred years ago was born one Kesavaiyer in this village in a Vadama brahmana family. In his long and glorious lineage of Ousatya gotram and Rigveda was born Panchapagesa Iyer.

To this Panchapagesa Iyer and his wife Yogambal was born a son called Mahadeva Iyer. It is indeed gratifying to note that a Yogic fruit, who was going to adorn the Yogalinga Peetham (Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham) later was born to Mahadeva Iyer, who was born to Yogambal!

Mahadeva Iyer acquired knowledge of Samskrit as well as English as per the practice prevalent then; he worked in the 'Loco' division of Southern Railway. Initially he had a house and landed properties in a place called 'Periyakudi'; later he sold them off and bought properties and lived in 'Adichapuram' (Adittan Uditta Puram- town where Aditya, Sun dawned). Though employed, he did not leave his family tradition; he performed Siva Pooja with prescribed rituals. On every Ekadasi day, there used to be bhajans and Ramayana Pravachan in his house. He had excellent culture, sweet words, humility and devotion to Acharya. He married Parvathi Ammal, daughter of Nemmeli Atmanatha Iyer of Mannargudi. They had two male and two female issues. After ten years of marriage, Parvathi Ammal attained Bhgavan's lotus feet unexpectedly. Mahadeva Iyer was shocked. To add to his sorrow, three of his children passed away in quick succession. His misery knew no bounds. He consoled himself with the thought of having to protect the one female child still with him. After some time elapsed this way, the need was felt for a life companion to rear the child and look after the family.

On 9th July, 1933, Mahadeva Iyer married Saraswathi following Vedic practice. Saraswathi was the daughter of Ramamritha Iyer of the village of 'IRUL NEEKKI', located three km from Kottur on the Tirutturaipundi road near Mannargudi. Iyer was unaware at that time that through this marriage this wide world was going to get a rare jewel of Gnana. The penance done by Mahadeva Iyer was indeed great!

'IRUL NEEKKI' provided by 'IRUL NEEKKI'

‘IRUL NEEKKI’ (remover of darkness) is a nice village. In the north flows the river Harischandra, bearing the name of the great king whose name is synonymous with Truth. Nice fields and coconut groves dot the surroundings everywhere. Kailasanatha temple on the east, Lakshmi-narayana Perumal temple on the west and temples of Grama Devatas on the north and south adorn this place. There is also the legend that during his exile in the forest Sri Rama’s feet touched this part of earth. Many Agnihotris lived here. Brahmasri Viraswamy Ganapathigal, who lived here, taught at the Veda Pathasala at Tiruvanaikka.

Mahadeva Iyer, eager to have a male issue, worshipped his Kuladeivam with devotion and discipline and performed Anna danam. With Bhagavan being compassionate in granting the wishes of his devotees, Saraswathi Ammal was soon in the family way.

When Mahadeva Iyer was working in Villupuram, a Sanyasi visited him one day in his house. Iyer extended courtesies to him. The happy Sanyasi prescribed certain regulations in order to remove the deficiencies in the family history and to get a good male child. Saraswathi Ammal strictly followed these instructions; she took bath early in the morning and worshipped Bhagavan. She prayed to Gomata with calf and fed her with grass. Mahadeva Iyer helped overcome the obstacles in getting a good male child by planting and rearing coconut palms on the banks of the tank in the Siva temple.

Thursday the 18th July, 1935

This was the sacred day for this world; the day when our Guru Jagadguru Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal incarnated on this earth as ‘IRUL NEEKKI’ (remover of darkness) to remove the darkness of ignorance of the world. The bright speck of Gnana arrived at 7 p.m. in the night on Thursday, the 3rd of the Tamil month of Adi (18.7.1935), on Tritiya of Krishnapaksha with Avittam star and Siddhayoga.

Mahadeva Iyer had gone to the head office in Tiruchirappalli on official duty that day; he went to Srirangam to have the Lord’s darshan that evening. He reached Chakratirtha inside the temple precincts in order to perform Sandhyavandanam. But he could not get the required Vibhuti; he managed with ‘Vari Pundram’ (wearing streaks of water instead of Vibhuti) and then had darshan of Sri Ranganatha. He then went to Tiruvanaikka during his return and offered worship to Jambukeswara and Akhilandeswari. No Gurukkal (Archaka) could be seen in both the Sannidhis. It was 7.30 p.m. Without getting Vibhuti anywhere, he left for Villupuram by train.

It was while he was having darshan of the Lord in Jambukeswaram (Tiruvanaikka) that in Irul Neekki a male child was born to him by the grace of Akhilandeswari; who can decipher the seeming coincidence! As he had contracted Sutakam (impurity on childbirth), he could not lay hands on Vibhuti at that time! Whatever happens to anyone anywhere - is it not due to the will of the Lord!

There was further scope for wonder in the birth. The child was born with both palms joined in the direction of the earth. People were surprised at this. Mahadeva Iyer's joy on knowing about the birth of the male child was indeed boundless. There was no chance for him to know at that time of the shape of incarnation of Gnana that the child would take in the years to come. While on this, we may consider these facts: Mahadeva is Lord Siva, the form of Gnana. Sastra says: 'Gnanam-icchet-Maheswarat', i.e. one should seek Gnana from Maheswara. Saraswathi is the mother incarnate of Gnana. The child born to these two can only be Gnana incarnate! This is what actually happened in later years.

The child, who was going to be Gnana in human form later, was named appropriately as Subrahmanyam, one of the names of Muruga, the Gnanapanditha. When the child became one year old, Mahadeva Iyer celebrated the first birthday with devotion by performing worship with Abhisheka with eleven Rudra chants and eleven materials in the adjacent Vinayaka temple.

The child was five years old in 1940. He was initiated into learning in the Vedic tradition through appropriate rituals. Mahadeva Iyer then put him in an elementary school in Bhimanayakan Thoppu in Villupuram. When Subrahmanyam was eight, on Sri Sankara Jayanthi day on the 9th May, 1943 (26th day of Chitra in Subhanu year), Upanayanam and Brahmopadesam were performed as per Vedic traditions for the boy, who was going to adorn the Peetham of Adi Sankara as Gnana incarnate. In the same Muhurtham that day, Mahadeva Iyer celebrated the marriage of Lakshmi, his daughter through first wife. Two sons were born to him later, Viswanathan and Ramakrishnan.

Vedic Study

Mahadeva Iyer was greatly devoted to Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peethadhipathi Jagadguru Sri Chandrasekharendra Saraswathi Swamigal (Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya). In 1928, when Sri Paramacharya camped in Villupuram for 12 days, Mahadeva Iyer would go to Srimatham every day in the evening after the day's work was over and after performing Sandhyavandanam, he would delight in having darshan of the Pooja of Sri Chandramouliswara and listening to the discourse of Sri Paramacharya.

When Subrahmanyam was eight, his father started to organize his Vedic learning. He decided to entrust the boy to the charge of Brahmasri Kunju Sastrigal (alias Krishnamurthy sastrigal), who was the younger brother of Sri Paramacharya in his Poorvasrama and who taught Rigveda in the Rig veda Pathasala in Tiruvidaimarudur, established by Kunniyur Sri Narayanaswami Iyer and run under the auspices of Srimatham. He thought of seeking the blessing of Sri Paramacharya before taking this action.

Sri Paramacharya, who was on tour in the Chola land, travelled back towards Kanchipuram with a view to performing the Kumbhabhishekam of Sri Kamakshi Ambal. He camped at Villupuram for a day en route. Mahadeva Iyer met him and sought his blessings and permission to put his son in the Veda Pathasala in Tiruvidaimarudur. Sri Paramacharya instructed that Vedic study of the boy could be initiated in Kanchipuram in the divine presence of Sri Kamakshi Ambal in an auspicious manner during Kumbhabhishekam, when a number of Vidvans including the Tiruvidaimarudur Sastrigal would go over there. Mahadeva Iyer, who accordingly arrived at Kanchipuram with his son Subrahmanyam, was delighted to witness Poojas in Yagasala.

It was Friday, 4th February 1944 (22nd of Thai month of Subhanu year). Good Muhurtha day. Vedic study of Subrahmanyam was started in the Sannidhi of Sri Chandramouliswara in Kanchipuram with the blessings of Sri Paramacharya Swamigal. What a coincidence that in the very presence of that great soul, to whom this child was going to become slave for life later, Vedic study of the child commenced! Study continued for two days.

On Monday, 7th February 1944 (25th of Thai of Subhanu), Kumbhabhishekam of Sri Kamakshi temple was celebrated grandly. Mahadeva Iyer returned with his son to Villupuram thereafter. Brahmasri Kunju Sastrigal, on his way back from Tirupati, came to Villupuram and took his disciple Subrahmanyam with him to Tiruvidaimarudur.

Subrahmanyam stayed in Tiruvidaimarudur for six years and completed study of Rigveda. During this time Brahmasri Krishnamurthy Sastrigal taught the boy the subtleties of Dharma Sastras. Wealth of Veda and Vedic life came together to the boy. The young mind, which was to strive for the upliftment of Vedic life in the land in later years, learnt all aspects very well from the teacher with great devotion and love. Subrahmanyam secured the first prize in the examination of Veda and Dharma Sastra held on 7th March 1946.

Sri Paramacharya Swamigal's Decision

Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya, the nourishing fountain of Gnana, the embodiment of tapas, decided to select someone to succeed him as the head of Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham and train him in his own lifetime. He sought to find a suitable youth for this purpose. As per regulations of Srimatham, the youth should be a brahmachari (celibate) of Rigvedic descent, have studied Rigveda, be keenly interested in conduct and rituals as laid down and be from a good family. Gurunatha contemplated seriously to find someone with all these qualifications. The thought of Subrahmanyam arose in his mind at that time, thus paving the way for our salvation!

In the year 1948 when Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya had camped in Valavanur near Villupuram, on the day of the auspicious Makara Sankranti, Sri C.S.Viswanatha Iyer, the Manager of Srimatham and Brahmasri Krishna Sastrigal of Mayiladuthurai visited Sri Mahadeva Iyer at his residence. Sri Krishna Sastrigal spoke: "Sri Paramacharya wishes to select a suitable successor and train the incumbent himself; he considers your son Subrahmanyam as possessing all the necessary qualifications for this purpose. You and your family should agree to this, considering the welfare of the world; we have come for this only." Mahadeva Iyer was overcome by shock for a second. The next second his mind was vacillating between the order of the Guru and his inability to come to an immediate decision. He said he would let them know of his decision after consulting his family and his son Subrahmanyam.

After a day or two, Mahadeva Iyer and his family arrived at the conclusion that it was their duty to obey the order of Sri Paramacharya. Subrahmanyam said firmly in agreement that he accepts this message as the order of Gurunatha and Iswara. Though Mahadeva Iyer was happy at the ripeness of the boy's mind even at the age of thirteen, was he also swayed by the grief of separation from his son? Victory was for Gnana. Mahadeva Iyer conveyed his decision to Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya. Subrahmanyam was later sent from Tiruvidaimarudur to Jagadguru Vidyasthanam in Tiruvanaikka in order to continue with Vedic studies. Mahadeva Iyer also came to Tiruchi on transfer from Villupuram.

It was testing time. Mahadeva Iyer suddenly lost his daughter Lakshmi and her child. He was very much aggrieved at this quick succession of miserable events.

The Learned boy in Vidyasthanam

As he had completed study of Rigveda Samhita in Tiruvidaimarudur, Subrahmanyam continued to study Padam, Kramam, Ghanam etc. of Rigveda and Upanishads of different Veda Sakhas (branches) in Jagadguru Vidyasthanam with devotion and discipline. He had his boarding and lodging in the residence of Brahmasri Balakrishna Sastrigal and pursued his studies in Jagadguru Vidyasthanam. He also studied Veda under Brahmasri Sivaramakrishna Sastrigal and Kavyas (Epics) under Brahmasri Balakrishna Sastrigal.

In the year 1950, Srimatham had camped in Tuthukudi near Nannilam in Thanjavur district. On receipt of instructions from Sri Paramacharya, Mahadeva Iyer went there with his son. Many important persons from different localities had assembled for darshan. It was then that in the presence of so many persons, Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya publicly made the announcement of his decision to appoint Sri Subrahmanyam as his successor. The delight of the audience was boundless! They were gratified at the fortune of getting the benefit of possessing their ears!

Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya Swamigal made the necessary arrangements on behalf of Srimatham to teach Subrahmanyam the necessary Upanishads etc. suited for the post of Acharya. Brahmasri Krishna Sastrigal taught Aitareya Upanishad of Rigveda; Brahmasri Viraswami Sastrigal, Taitriya Upanishad of Yajurveda; Brahmasri Subramania sastrigal, Chandogya Upanishad of Samaveda; Brahmasri Allur Parasurama Ghanapathigal, Upanishads like Brihadaranyakam, Isavasyam etc. of Sukla Yajurveda. This training continued till March of 1954.

Bharata Desa Yatra prior to Anointment

Mahadeva Iyer desired to tour Bharata desa with his son before change of Asrama of the latter, expected soon. Sri Paramacharya blessed this effort. Iyer took two months' leave and started the tour with Sri Subrahmanyam. They had darshan at many kshetras including Madurai, Tirunelveli, Papanasam, Tirukkuttralam, Palani, Rameswaram, Dhanushkoti, Kanyakumari, Bangalore, Nashik, Panchavati, Pandharpur, Pune, Mumbai, Narmada river shore, Agra, Mathura, Delhi, Haridwar, Rishikesh, Kanpur, Allahabad, Kashi, Gaya, Kolkata etc. This sacred tour of Bharata desa acted as the catalyst for the ripening of mind of Sri Subrahmanyam and the harbinger of his future tours of the land.

Compassionate Jayendra in Kamakoti Peetham

Sri Paramacharya then decided to initiate Sri Subrahmanyam into Sanyasa asrama with the necessary rituals and instructions. Mahadeva Iyer completed Yatra danam, Sankalpam and Devata Poojas as per Vedic rules in Tiruchirappalli and reached Kanchipuram with his family. Appropriate Vedic rituals were conducted suitably in Kanchipuram from 19th to 22nd of March 1954. Sri Paramacharya was then in the Matham in Chinna Kanchipuram. Sri Subrahmanyam went to Tirupati with his father and had darshan of Lord Venkatesa, their family deity. While returning, he went to Kalavai and worshipped at the Adhishtanams of two of the earlier Acharyas and then at the Adhishthanam of another Acharya at Ambikapuram (Keezhambi) near Kanchipuram.

Monday, 22nd March 1954 (Vijaya year, Panguni 9th) is a special day in the history of Srimatham; a day on which one more fragrant flower was added to the 'Kamakoti' garland. Early in the morning that day Sri Subrahmanyam took as Prasadam the sacred earth at the foot of the Asvatha tree on the banks of the Ananthasagara tank and proceeded to Srimatham, where he offered Pooja to the idol of Sri Sureswaracharya. He then went to Sri Kamakshi temple, where he worshipped Ambika and Adi Sankara, the founder of Srimatham. He had darshan at Kumarakottam and the Aamra vriksha (mango tree) at the Ekamreswara temple. He prayed to Sri Tripurasundari sametha Sri Chandramouliswara, the primal deity of Srimatham. He performed rituals of offerings to Devas, Rishis and Pitrus as per Vedic rules.

Having spent the entire previous night seated in silent contemplation with no sleep, Sri Subrahmanyam proceeded now to Mukthi Mandapam on the banks of the glorious Sarvatirtha tank and awaited the arrival of his Gurunatha. Kanchipuram wore a festive, celebratory look. Thousands of devotees assembled in Kanchipuram to witness the Mahopadesa event.

9 a.m.... Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya started from Srimatham. With eight Dandi Sanyasis following and surrounded by crowds of devotees, he reached the Mukthi Mandapam. Masses of devotees with Vibhuti on forehead were seen on all sides, hiding the steps of the tank.

10 a.m.... Followed by Vedic pundits, Sri Subrahmanyam got down to the Sarvatirtha tank, stood in waist-deep water and renounced all worldly ties. Rituals were gone through; Sri Paramacharya offered him the saffron apparel. He then taught the Mahavakya to Sri Subrahmanyam in the Sannidhi of Sri Visveswara there and accepted him as his chief disciple and successor and gave him the Diksha nama of 'Jayendra Saraswathi'.

The 19 year old Sri Subrahmanyam now became the 69th head of Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham and was called Sri Paramahansa Parivrajakacharyavarya Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal. The festivities of Mahopadesa came to an end. Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya, followed by his chief disciple, then reached Srimatham via Lingappier Street with the traditional musical instruments and Srimatham honours in attendance. The crowd of devotees seemed like a big ocean wave. Those who had darshan of the two holy personages together melted in devotion. Is there a doubt that the onlookers were indeed very fortunate?

In the Sannidhi of Sri Chandramouliswara in Srimatham Sri Paramacharya blessed his chief disciple and successor Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal with a Rudraksha mala, a sphatika (crystal) mala and Pitambaram (shawl) which he had received from Tirupati Devasthanam. The Nitya Pooja in Srimatham was over by 3 p.m. that day. By the time Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya finished giving Prasadam to the devotees and disciples, it was 3 a.m. the next day; imagine how many people would have come to Srimatham!

From that day Jagadguru Sri Sankaracharya Sri Chandrasekharendra Saraswathi Swamigal, the 68th head of Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham, came to be known fondly as Sri Periyaval/ Sri Maha Periyaval; Jagadguru Sri Sankaracharya Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal, the 69th head of Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham as Sri Pudu Periyaval. After getting into Sanyasa asrama, Jagadguru Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal stayed in Kanchi Srimatham and learnt the Prasthanaya Bhashyas from his Gurunatha. (Prasthanaya Bhashyas refers to the three fundamental texts of Sanatana Dharma - Upanishdas, Vyasa's Brahma Sutras and Bhagavad Gita. The Bhashyas are commentaries on these texts by Adi Sankaracharya, through which he reestablished and propagated Advaita Siddhanta). Sri Acharya Swamigal also picked up the rituals connected with the Nitya pooja of Sri Tripurasundari sametha Sri Chandramouliswara and the traditions of Srimatham. He spent fifteen years studying Vyakarana, Mimamsa, Nyaya Sastras etc. from Panditaraja Sri V.Subramania Sastrigal, Sastra Ratnakara Mandalika Sri Venkata Sastrigal, Sri N.Ramakrishna Sastrigal, Sri Ranganatha Sastrigal, Mudikondan Sri Srinivasa Sastrigal, Sri Ramamurthy Sastrigal, Sri S.R.Krishnamurthy Sastrigal and Pratyankarai Sri Subramania Sastrigal. At the same time he served his Gurunatha ceaselessly. Along with his Guru he went on a tour starting from Rameswaram extending upto Andhra Pradesh.

A few years passed. Having found that Sri Pudu Periyaval had gained complete mastery over Srimatham administration and traditions and rituals of Nitya Pooja, Sri Paramacharya Swamigal entrusted all the responsibilities of Srimatham to him and engaged himself in tapas. Jagadguru Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal accepted the instruction of his Gurunatha in all humility and seriousness and has been fully guiding all the work of Srimatham ever since.

Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya stayed in Kalavai for some time. Later he stayed for a long time in Sivaasthanam in Kanchipuram (Tenambakkam), performed tapas and blessed the visitors. Thereafter he undertook a tour of north India. A large number of devotees had the good fortune of having darshan of his golden red lotus feet. There is not even an iota of doubt that Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya, the flame of Sivagnana and Advaitagnana, the very pinnacle of the sacred Vedas, who lived a life of tapas and was hailed by the entire world, has indeed been guiding all of us on the right path with utmost compassion, while in flesh and blood earlier and now from the Adhishthanam in Srimatham in Kanchipuram.

Jayendra Vijayam

Jagadguru Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal, who was trained by his Gurunatha for about sixteen years, started on his first independent tour in 1970 with full blessings and permission of Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya. From then onwards uptil now, he has toured almost all the nooks and corners of Bharata Desa and initiated countless public service activities.

Let us now turn to the details of the Vijaya Yatras of the Jagadguru.

Jaya Jaya Sankara! Hara Hara Sankara!

Guru alone is the guide.

FIRST VIJAYA YATRA

Vijaya yatra for performing Mahakumbhabhishekam of Sri Akhilandeswari in Tiruvanaikka
(Jambukeswaram)

(From 4th June 1970 to 15th July 1970)

“Look at the form of the enlightened Guru

Chant the holy names of the enlightened Guru

Listen to the sacred words of the enlightened Guru

Meditate on the form of the enlightened Guru” – Tirumular (Tirumandiram)

Of all the Advaita Gnana Peethas established by Sri Adi Sankara Bhagavatpada, Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham enjoys many special glories. Sri Adi Sankara installed Sri Chakra with his own hands in front of Sri Kamakshi and subdued the harshness of the Devi, who had emerged from the Bilakasa, and pacified her.

‘Aksham’ means eye in Samskrit; Kamakshi got her name because she fulfils all the wishes of her devotees by mere glance. Divine Mother Kamakshi is also known as Kamakoti since she blesses by granting all the crores (koti) of desires of devotees and, more importantly the ultimate limit (koti) of desire, viz. Moksha (Liberation).

Though the 69th head of such an exalted Peetham, Jagadguru Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal had been on tours along with his Guru Sri Paramacharya, this was his first tour undertaken independently.

(In this book Sri Chandrasekharendra Saraswathi Swamigal is referred to as Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya and Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal as Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal.)

Anaikka the Ambika Abode

Of the rare abodes of Ambika, Anaikka is one. As this temple has ‘Jambu’ as the sthala vriksha, it is known as Jambukeswaram. Lord: Jambukeswara; Devi: Akhilandeswari. From the time Sri Adi Sankara had renewed the ‘Tatanka’ (ear-stud) of this Devi, this temple is under the jurisdiction of Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham. This yatra had this jurisdiction in intent while performing the Mahakumbhabhishekam of the Devi.

3rd June 1970

Evening.... After completing the Pooja of Sri Tripurasundari sametha Sri Chandramouliswara and extending his blessings to all those assembled, Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal commenced the yatra at the auspicious hour, surrounded by devotees. The chants of 'Jaya Jaya Sankara! Hara Hara Sankara!' rent the air. The compassionate God on foot came out to the entrance of Srimatham, had darshan of the tower of Ekamreswara temple and started to walk. A large crowd followed, chanting holy names. After having darshan at Sri Kamakshi temple and taking leave of Universal Mother Ambika, Sri Swamigal reached Kalavai on 5th June 1970 via Vembakkam and Perungattur, blessing the devotees gathered en route.

Kalavai- Adhishthanam

Kalavai is a place closely intertwined with the history of Srimatham; it is the place of Samadhi of the Guru and Paramaguru of Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya. Further it possesses the pride of hosting the ascension of Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya, Sri Chandrasekharendra Saraswathi Swamigal to the Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham. It has been the tradition of Srimatham Acharyas generally to have darshan of the Adhishthanams in Kalavai while embarking on a yatra. Accordingly Sri Swamigal camped for a day at Kalavai, completed the Pooja and then reached Adayapalam via Mambakkam and Arani.

Adayapalam – Appayya Dikshitar

Adayapalam is the birthplace of the savant, Appayya Dikshitar. Though he belonged to the Advaita tradition, he wrote treatises not only on Advaita, but also many books of reference on the principles of Saivism, Vaishnavism etc. He was held in great esteem by the scholars and kings of his time and had the distinction of being honoured with Kanakabhishekam by the king of Vellore. He constructed temples in Adayapalam. He is believed to have merged with Lord Nataraja in Chidambaram; his mortal coils were not seen. The temples in Adayapalam have been renovated and Kumbhabhishekam performed under the auspices of Srimatham. As Sri Dikshitar was a Samavedi, a Samaveda Pathasala is being run here in his memory under the auspices of Srimatham. Sri Swamigal camped for a day at Adayapalam of such fame, performed Pooja, blessed the people and then went to Villupuram, where he camped for two days.

Villupuram is the birthplace of Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya. We may call this place 'Vizhumiya Puram' (meaning exalted town) as it gave the world the great Guru! In order to perpetuate this memory, Sri Acharya Swamigal established and worshipped the Padukas of Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya at the place of his birth. The camp also halted here; in fact it has become the tradition in later years to camp here whenever Sri Swamigal comes to Villupuram.

After halting at Venkatadri Aharam close to Villupuram, Sri Acharya Swamigal went to a village called Vadavambalam nearby. Adhishthanam of Sri Atmabodhendral Saraswathi (1586-1638), 58th Acharya of Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham is located here. He was the Guru of Bhagavannama Bodhendral, the 59th Acharya. He also has the unique distinction of having motivated Sri Sadasiva Brahmendral to write the history of Acharyas of Kanchi Kamakoti Matham called ‘Gururatna Malika’. This location of his Samadhi was discovered by pure divine intuition by Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya Swamigal in 1927 and a suitable Adhishthanam came up later. After offering worship here, Sri Acharya Swamigal reached Vadalur.

Vadalur is the place where Ramalinga Vallalar, who sang Tiruvarutpa, attained Siddhi. Sri Acharya Swamigal halted in the Seshasayee industrial complex here and performed Pooja. All the workers of the factories benefited by having darshan of Sri Swamigal. At the request of the Neyveli devotees, the camp halted for a day there (20th June 1970). The Saivaites scholar Sri Vageesam Pillai had darshan of Sri Swamigal there. Sri Swamigal blessed and asked him to grow and provide Vilva plants to temples in Tamil Nadu.

Decoration of diamond cover (kavacha)

Chidambaram is the greatest of sthalas; it is the ‘Akasa’ sthala among sthalas of the five elements; the kshetra where Lord Nataraja dances merrily in the golden hall; for Saivites, the term ‘Koil’ (temple) means the Nataraja temple here alone; the place, where the Thillai (Chidambaram) three thousand (Dikshitars), who are privileged to touch and offer worship to Nataraja, live. The Srimatham camp halted here for two days. Sri Acharya Swamigal performed a rare noble service to the dancing Lord.

7 a.m. on 21st June 1970. The great event of decorating Sri Nataraja’s ‘Kunchitapadam’ (the raised left foot) with diamond cover took place. There is a sweet saying in Tamil: ‘it is the foot that rises to dance, which provides life to us’. It was a sight for the gods when Sri Acharya Swamigal, surrounded by devotees, took the diamond cover in a procession amid the auspicious sounds of musical instruments and decorated Sri Nataraja with it. This diamond cover weighs 596 gms. It has all the nine precious stones - 534 diamonds, 390 gems and 27 emeralds; its worth was Rs.3 lakhs.

The next day Sri Acharya Swamigal had special darshan of Sri Ratnasabhapathi with deeparadhana and of Lord Govindaraja; in the evening he had darshan of Thillai Kali. After the Chandramouliswara Pooja was over, he honoured the Secretary of the Chidamabaram Dikshitars' Association with Ahimsa khadi shawl. Sri Acharya Swamigal also visited in the evening the Chidambaram Sabha Samskrita Vidyalaya and was happy to listen to the Veda Parayanam of the students. The next day he paid a visit to the Sarvodaya Sangham in the south car street. Sri Swamigal then left for Sirkali.

Sirkali: Birthplace of Tirugnanasambandar. The house in which he was born is maintained by Srimatham as a memorial to him. A Devara school is run and Agni worship is regularly performed here. Sri Acharya Swamigal stayed here and performed Sri Chandramouliswara Pooja.

That evening he went to Vaideeswarankoil (Pullirukkuvelur), the Angaraka kshetra and had darshan of Vaideeswara Swamy, Balambika (Thaiyal Nayaki) and Muthukumara (Selva).

Mayiladuthurai – Darshan of Medha Dakshinamoorthy

Mayiladuthurai is the sthala where Ambika prayed taking the form of peahen and was blessed by Siva. Thousands of devotees gathered here to have darshan of Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal and welcomed him with folded hands and melting hearts. Sri Swamigal went straight to Vallalar temple at Mayiladuthurai (24th June 1970) and had darshan of Sri Medha Dakshinamoorthy and made offering of silk apparel to the Lord.

Darshan of Adhishtanam of Sri Bodhendra Swamigal

Sri Acharya Swamigal camped for a day in Rajagopalapuram, completed Pooja, blessed the many people who performed Padapoojas, accepted Poorna Kumbham offered in many homes, showered grace and then reached Govindapuram nearby. The Adhishtanam of Sri Bodhendra Swamigal, the 59th Sankaracharya of Sri Kamakoti Peetham is situated in this place. This Acharya established the greatness of Bhagavannama, specially in Kaliyuga. He stressed that Vedic duties are not to be neglected, but performed with sincere devotion and that Nama japa should be practised by all at all times for purification of mind. He collected rare books on the subject of Nama Siddhanta and he himself authored a number of books to propagate it. He pioneered the Ramanama cult, initiated people and gave diksha and sacred strings for tying on the wrist. It is worth remembering that it was while camping at this place that Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya decided to bestow Sanyasam on Sri Subrahmanyam, when the latter was in his Poorvasrama.

Madhyarjunam – Mahalingeswara

Tiruvidaimarudur, also called Madhyarjunam, has Arjuna tree as its Sthala vriksha. This is the place where Varaguna Pandian was relieved of the sin of Brahmahatya. It is considered auspicious to bathe in Kaveri here, specially in Tula (Aippasi) month and on sacred days like Thai Poosam day. The reigning lord is Sri Mahalingeswara. Sri Adi Sankara is reported to have come to this place. During that time, in the course of debate between Saiva and Samana (Jain) religions, Sri Mahalingeswara himself is said to have shown a single finger of his raised hand and uttered the words ‘Advaitam Satyam’ thrice. (Such a rare image of Siva Lingam with a hand jutting out with a single raised finger can be seen even today in Sankara Matham at this place). It is here that Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal had stayed for eight years in his Poorvasrama and studied Veda in the Rigveda Pathasala. The camp of Sri Swamigal halted for a day (26th June 1970) in Tiruvidaimarudur and left for Kumbakonam.

Reception in Kumbakonam

Thousands of people greeted heartily Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal, the embodiment of the four Vedas, at the outskirts of Kumbakonam on 27th June 1970. Sri Acharya Swamigal reached Sri Sankara Matham, seated on a caparisoned elephant and accompanied by instrumental music and Veda Parayanam.

The administration of Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham was shifted from Kanchipuram to Kumbakonam some 250 years ago owing to certain political constraints. The Utsava Kamakshi deity (known as Bangaru Kamakshi) in Sri Kamakshi temple in Kanchipuram was also taken to Thanjavur during that time. Of course now all the administrative activities of Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham have returned to Kanchipuram.

Thousands of people were happy to witness Sri Chandramouliswara Pooja performed by Sri Acharya Swamigal in the camp at Srimatham at Kumbakonam. Sri Swamigal, in his address to the gathering, advised one and all to follow the path of bhakti and dwelt on the importance of purity in thought, word and deed and blessed all.

He left in the evening for Swamimalai, one of the six ‘Padaiveedus’ of Sri Muruga (Subrahmanya). After darshan there, he went to Karugudi, where he camped for two days. While camping there, he visited Tiruvaiyaru, the sthala which houses the Samadhi of Sri Thyagabrahmam, one of the Trinity of Carnatic music, born in Tiruvarur, celebrated as the place which grants mukti to those who are born there, and who adopted Nadopsana as the path to Mukti.

Reception at Tirukkattupalli

Sri Acharya Swamigal left Karugudi in the morning and reached Tirukkattupalli. When he arrived through the Agraharam, it was nice to see Poorna Kumbham being offered in every house. After having darshan at Sri Subrahmanya Swamy temple, he visited Sir Sivaswamy Iyer High School. Welcome addresses in Samskrit and Tamil were read and offered. Sri Swamigal visited the students' hostel and advised the students:

“Like keeping the body pure by brushing teeth and taking bath, one should keep his mind pure. For this, students should study Ramayana, Mahabharatha, Bhagavadgita, Tirukkural and such other righteous books. This will result in purification of mind and enrich life with values. This is the foundation of bhakti towards God.”

Sri Swamigal opened the newly constructed Prayer hall in the girls' high school. Sri Swamigal visited Mahakaliyamman temple and decorated Ambal with silver cover (kavacha) donated by devotees. He reached the outskirts of Tiruchi via Valadi the same night.

Kumbhabhishekam at Tiruvanaikka

From the southern bank of river Kollidam, accompanied by a very large crowd and amidst Vedic chant, singing of bhajans, firecrackers and instruments playing music, Sri Swamigal was taken in procession to Jambukeswaram. Sri Acharya Swamigal initiated the preliminary rituals connected with the Maha Kumbhabhishekam.

Renovation of 'Tiruneetran Madil': It is unique and noteworthy that the northern boundary wall on the west of the Tiruvanaikka temple was originally constructed by the Lord himself. This 8000 ft long 'madil' (boundary wall) was constructed by Lord Siva, who appeared in the form of Siddha and gave away only 'Tiruneeru' (Vibhuti) as wages to workers. Hence this wall came to be known as 'Tiruneetran Madil'. Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal inaugurated the renovation of this wall. His Anugraha bhashanam at that time:

“The Gopurams of the temple, the wide corridors (Prakaras), beautiful sculpted pillars etc. are symbols of devoted service. They proclaim the devotion to our religion of those who constructed them. Devotees should offer money, materials or labour and complete the present task (of renovation). This is the duty of everyone.”

Sri T.M.Narayanaswamy Pillai, president of the Kumbhabhishekam committee and former vice-chancellor of Annamalai University, said that the instruction and inspiration for undertaking this renovation came from Sri Swamigal himself and hence it was indeed appropriate that he himself came and inaugurated the renovation work. Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal donated a sum of Rs.1001/- from Srimatham towards the renovation work of the wall and blessed the effort.

The next day (4.7.1970) Tiruvachakamani Sri K.M.Balasubramaniam, who was about to leave for abroad for religious propagation, had darshan of Sri Acharya Swamigal, who honoured him with a silk shawl.

After inaugurating a new college and delivering his benedictory address, Sri Swamigal went straight to the temple. Lakhs of people had gathered to witness the Kumbhabhishekam. Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal performed Maha Kumbhabhishekam at 9.45 a.m. for the seven Gopurams and two Vimanas that had been renovated.

Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya had performed in 1908 similar Kumbhabhishekam at Tiruvanaikka, which was the first to be performed by him after ascension to the Peetham. In 1923 he performed Tatanka Pratishtha for Sri Akhilandeswari and Kumbhabhishekam for the second time. In 1961 the two Acharyas together performed Tatanka Pratishtha and Kumbhabhishekam again. Thereafter now in 1970 the entire temple was renovated and Maha Kumbhabhishekam performed at the hands of Sri Acharya Swamigal.

Sri Adi Sankara Bhagavatpada has installed ‘Yantras’ in many sthalas to attract the special grace of Iswara. In that process it is said that he installed the Vighneswara idol in front of Sri Akhilandeswari in Tiruvanaikka (Jambukeswaram) and also fixed Srichakras as Tatankas (ear-studs) in the two ears of the Devi. Renovation, restoration of Tatankas and performance of Maha Kumbhabhishekam in this temple have been carried out by the successive Acharyas of Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham as a matter of privilege ever since.

The renovation work in connection with the present Kumbhabhishekam had been carried out in the past seven years at a cost of Rs.15 lakhs. Now that the work, started in 1963 with the blessings of Sri Acharya Swmigal, had been completed, Kumbhabhishekam was performed by him. Seven Gopurams including Rajagopuram, Mallappa Gopuram, Karthikai Gopuram, Aravitta Gopuram, Sankareswara Gopuram, Manimandapa Gopuram and Sundarapandiya Gopuram and the two Vimanams of Swami and Ambal had been renovated now. Sri Acharya Swamigal honoured the Kumbhabhishekam committee suitably.

Mahabhishekams were performed in a grand manner for Jambukeswara and Akhilandeswari. Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal performed Abhishekam for Sri Akhilandeswari and decorated her with a necklace of 108 sovereigns of gold with a pendant of lotus at the centre, donated by the public. Tirumuruga Kripanandavariar, who had made large collections for the renovation work, spoke on the All India Radio on the greatness of Ambal. In the night the procession of Panchamurthis to the accompaniment of Nadaswaram of Tiruvidaimarudur Sri P.M.Veeraswamy Pillai was spectacular.

Pattinapravesam (ceremonial entry in town) at Tiruchi

On the night of 5.7.1970 Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal was accorded welcome on behalf of the public, the Tamil Writers' Association, Samskrita Sahitya Parishad and Chandrasekharendra Bhakta Sangham. Sri Swamigal honoured two great personalities Sri P.R.Narayana Iyer and his brother Sri P.R.Krishna Iyer by giving them titles of 'Vaidika Sraddhamani'; he also honoured Sri A.V.R.Krishnaswamy Reddiar by giving him title of 'Kavithamani' and an Ahimsa silk shawl for his work of translating Sri Adi Sankara's divine book 'Soundaryalahari' into Tamil and publishing it under the title of 'Azhaguvellam'. Later he visited the hill fort to the accompaniment of Veda Parayanam and Nadaswaram music.

This Vijaya yatra undertaken for the holy worship of Ambika concluded thus with complete 'Vijayam' (victory). Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal now started his travel from Tiruchi back towards Kanchipuram. Enroute he visited Dalmiapuram.

On the outskirts of the town, the employees of Dalmia Cements Limited gathered in large numbers and welcomed Sri Swamigal enthusiastically. Sri Swamigal accepted the welcome addresses in Samskrit and Tamil given in Dalmia high school grounds and uttered words of benediction:

"Hinduism is as old as our motherland. The path of dharma and related teachings expounded in Hinduism are ancient. Bhagavan has given us the power of discrimination. Using that, we should all find out the good and avoid being caught up by evil feelings and circumstances and choose the right path, stick to it and live our lives accordingly."

In the subsequent meeting of the families of Dalmia workers also, Sri Swamigal touched upon the foundation of Hinduism, the greatness of idol worship, the goal of human life, the necessity of developing good conduct etc. and blessed the gathering. To the employees, who were used to listen only to slogans about God, these teachings provided a new experience and sentimental value. That day in the evening Sri Swamigal's Anugraha bhashanam to the students proved to be a historic occasion for them. Sri Swamigal said: “One should read with faith epics like Mahabharatham and Ramayanam, which contain all the principles of Hinduism and exemplify Bharatiya culture, and lead good lives.” Later Sri Swamigal paid a visit to the Dalmia cements Co. and blessed the workers.

Sri Swamigal then halted at Ariyalur, where he visited the Govt. high school and spoke to the teachers and students: “Teachers should realize the value of Tirukkural and teach one verse every day to students. Students should learn it by heart and live as per the noble principles taught there.” Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal then proceeded on his journey, camping enroute in a few places and reached Kanchipuram on 15th July 1970.

The public of Kanchipuram gathered in large numbers and received with affection Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal with Poorna kumbham honours in front of the district collector's office. Sri Swamigal accepted the honours and went in procession to Sri Kamakshi Ambal temple and, after darshan, reached Srimatham.

The first Vijaya Yatra thus concluded very magnificently.

Vyasa Pooja- Chaturmasya Vratam

Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal conducted this year's (1970) Vyasa Pooja in Kanchipuram itself and undertook Chaturmasya Vratam.

July 18, 1970 – the auspicious Vyasa Pooja day.

Tirukkural competition for college students:

In order to engender love and interest in Tirukkural among college students, Sri Acharya Swamigal announced on 25th July 1970 a scheme to hold competitions and award prizes in this regard. The competitions were then held in the month of September in the respective colleges. Cash prizes of Rs.100/- for the first and Rs.75/- for the second positions were sent from Srimatham through the college principals and heads of Tamil departments to students who learnt by heart and recited 25 'Adhikarams' of Tirukkural. Thousands of college students participated enthusiastically in these competitions and secured prizes. All those who participated in the competition were given books as consolation prizes.

Agama Silpa Sadas – Festival of traditional arts

Agama Silpa Sadas – Festival of traditional arts was being conducted by Srimatham with the aim of preserving the ancient arts of Bharat. The ninth Sadas was held grandly from 6th to 10th September 1970 in Kanchipuram in Gangabai garden in Salai Street. Sri A. Periyathambi Mudaliar, a trader in Kanchipuram silks and one who was the recipient of full grace of Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal, was the president of the Sadas committee; Dr.C.S.V.Rajappa was the secretary. Justice N.Krishnaswamy Reddiar, judge of Madras High Court, inaugurated the Sadas. Chairman of Hindu Religious Endowments Board Sri Narasimhan also participated in the Sadas. Experts spoke on Agamas and Silpa Sastra and participated in debates.

Programmes of folk arts like Villuppattu (Singing with bow), Bommalattam (Puppet show) and Pitambara vidya were held. Delegates for the Sadas came from all over India. Those who participated in the Sadas and spoke included scholars like Sri T.M.Narayanaswamy Pillai, Thanjavur N.S.Thathachariar, N.Sanjivi, A.V.R.Krishnaswamy Reddiar, T.P.Meenakshi Sundaram, Billiosa, N.R.Bhat, Silambuchelvar Ma.Po.Si., Vagisakalanidhi Ki.Va.Ja and K.Vajravel. Union Education Minister Sri V.K.R.V.Rao released the Souvenir. Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal spoke on the concluding day on 10.9.1970 and emphasized the need for preservation of ancient folk arts.

SECOND VIJAYA YATRA

Vijaya Yatra for inaugurating the renovation of Guruvayur Temple in Kerala

(From December 4, 1970 to September 5, 1971)

Kerala State is the fountainhead of Advaita tatvagnana. It is in Kaladi here that the flame of Advaita philosophy was kindled. That Light source walked the entire land from Himalayas to Sethu, subjugated evils, nurtured the virtuous and lighted the lamp of Gnana. That Light has been protecting this nation of Bharat from that day to this day.

Yes; Sri Adi Sankara Bhagavatpada's Avatara was in Kaladi. Advaita is the principle elucidated by that great soul. It was Dakshinamurthy, the embodiment of Gnana, who incarnated as Adi Sankara. Kaladi was the chosen spot for this Avatara. Guruvayur is among the greatest of sthalas in Kerala State.

Guruvayur – Sri Krishna

Bhagavan Sri Krishna's presence here is overwhelming; the feeling of protection experienced by the worshippers is palpable. Those who enter this temple utter no words other than the Narayanamas. Each one's tongue repeatedly and involuntarily chants 'Guruvayurappa, Hare Krishna, Narayana' and prays for his grace. The cleanliness of the temple and the divine atmosphere melt the hearts of all. Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal undertook this second Vijaya Yatra for the purpose of inaugurating the renovation work of this temple.

He commenced the Yatra on 4th December 1970 from Kanchipuram towards this abode of Narayana with thoughts centred on Narayana. He reached Kalavai and had darshan of the Adhishthanams and then left for Arani. Accompanied by devotees, Sri Swamigal had darshan at the Varasiddhi Vinayaka temple in Arani and reached his camp site. After completing the Pooja here, Sri Swamigal went and halted in Polur for two days. He then reached Tiruvannamalai, where he camped for a week from December 10th to 16th. Tiruvannamalai is the sthala of 'Agni', out of the five sthalas associated with the five elements. Karthikai Deepa Festival is uniquely grand here.

When Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal arrived at Tiruvannamalai, he was received at the outskirts with due temple honours by the head of Isanya Matham, the Trustee of Sri Arunachaleswara Devasthanam and others. Sri Swamigal went in a procession and halted in Isanya Matham. He then proceeded to the camp site. That day was Pradosha Pooja.

The next day was Karthikai Deepam. In the evening Sri Swamigal had darshan of Bharani Deepam. He also visited Srimatham and Veda Pathasala. At the meeting of the various Mathadhipatis held here, Sri Swamigal stressed the need to explore ways and means of spreading Hinduism in rural areas, which provides the cultural foundation of our entire land.

The next day was Giri Pradakshinam. As the Lord has himself taken the form of the hill here, it is of unique significance to go round the hill here, particularly on Pournami days. Arunachala Khandam in Skanda Puranam speaks very highly of the merits of this Giri Pradakshinam. In recent years Sri Ramana Maharshi commended this practice and has sung hymns in praise of Arunachaleswara having taken the form of the hill. Sri Acharya Swamigal then left for Vellore.

Guruvayur – Inauguration of Temple Renovation

As noted earlier, the main purpose of this yatra was to inaugurate the renovation work of the Guruvayur temple. The camp in Guruvayur was from 30th April to 2nd May 1971. Sri Acharya Swamigal enjoyed 'Krishnaattankali' dance on arrival on the evening of 30th April.

In November 1970 the outer parts of the temple had been burnt down in a fire accident. The Devaswom therefore decided to do restoration work in the temple. Sri Swamigal came over now to inaugurate this restoration work. At 2 a.m. on 1st May, a large crowd of devotees gathered in front of the temple. Cries of 'Jaya Jaya Sankara, Hara Hara Sankara, Hare Krishna, Hare Narayana' rent the air. Everyone was uttering the holy names of Krishna and Narayana.

Sri Acharya Swamigal arrived at the temple after going round the tank; he was surrounded by thousands of devotees. Even in that air of commotion one could perceive a sense of serene divinity on everyone's face. With Nadaswaram and Panchavadyam playing music, the atmosphere overflowed with auspiciousness. Sri Swamigal was given a ceremonial welcome in front of the Renovation office with a set of 33 caparisoned elephants standing majestically. Sri Swamigal's subsequent darshan at the temple was emotional. He came out and laid the foundation stone for the temple renovation work between 4 and 5 a.m. in accordance with Sastras. Navaratnas (nine gems) were kept, covered with a gold plate; foundation stone was laid on top and finished with sandal paste amid loud chant of God's names of Guruvayurappa, Narayana and Krishna. Firecrackers emitted loud noise. Then there was a music recital by Chembai Vaidyanatha Bhagavathar.

In the evening a large crowd had gathered. Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal gave Anugraha bhashanam. He mentioned that when he read in the newspapers about the fire accident in the temple, his eyes became wet and heart melted. But having noticed now people's devotion and enthusiasm to complete the renovation work quickly, Sri Swamigal felt somewhat relieved. He blessed the effort to bear quick fruit. Those who listened to Sri Swamigal felt tears rolling down their eyes and prayed for quick completion of the renovation work.

Having fulfilled the primary aim of this yatra and, with the grace of Sri Guruvayurappan, Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal left on 3rd May for Tirupparaiyar, the Rama kshetra. Here bursting of firecrackers is considered as prayer. On 4th May, the famous Pooram festival was celebrated with great fanfare at Thrissur with show of caparisoned elephants and bursting of firecrackers all night. Sri Swamigal reached Kollangode on 18th May after halting for Pooja in many places enroute. Maharaja of Kollangode welcomed Sri Swamigal, performed pada pooja and received blessings.

Conclusion of Kerala Yatra

Halting at Sathappuram in Palakkad, Sri Acharya Swamigal visited villages around. He camped in Railway colony in Ramanathapuram Agraharam for a day. Sri Swamigal arrived at Chittur on 26th May via Othappalam, Chandrasekharapuram and Pallasena. Chittur was known to be a place of culture having Veda Pathasala and Samskrit college. After spending a day there, Sri Swamigal crossed the Kerala border, entered Tamil Nadu and reached Pollachi.

The yatra to Kerala and the programmes held there were all remarkable. In many places Dharma (free) upanayanams were held. This yatra of Sri Acharya Swamigal took place after a long gap of forty years after the last visit of Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya. Hence there was a great deal of enthusiasm among the public. They came in thousands for darshan, received Tirtha Prasadam and listened to Anugraha bhashanam. It was a very impressive sight throughout the yatra to watch children come out with lamp on plate (Talappoli) at the entrance of every house and receive Sri Swamigal to the accompaniment of drums and Panchavadyam. The Kerala yatra turned out to be spectacular in all respects.

At Pollachi Sri Acharya Swamigal camped for three days and visited temples and neighbouring areas. Industrialist Sri N.Mahalingam presented address of welcome in the reception organized by the Municipality and received blessings. On 1st June Sri Acharya Swamigal reached Palani. The Acharya, embodiment of Gnana, climbed up the hill and had darshan of Sri Dandayudhapani, the Gnana fruit, the Gnanapanditha. Special Abhishekam and decorations were offered to the Lord and the golden chariot was also pulled and taken round. People had darshan of the Lord, who is Gnanaguru together with Sri Acharya Swamigal, the Gnanaguru in flesh and blood and felt life's mission fulfilled.

After performing Pooja at Tarapuram, Sri Swamigal reached Nachimuthunagar near Chennimalai. Sri Swamigal visited a local school and blessed the students.

Leaving for Karvetnagar

After a couple of days' stay in Srimatham, Jagadguru Acharya Swamigal decided to go to Karvetnagar in Chittur district of Andhra Pradesh, where Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya had been camping. On the evening of 28th June 1971, Sri Swamigal left Kanchipuram for Arakkonam and then Tiruttani, where he had darshan of Sri Muruga. He then reached Karvetnagar, had darshan of Sri Paramacharya on the banks of the beautiful Lotus Pond and stayed with him.

On 2nd July 1971, Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya honoured Sri Viswanatha Iyer with the title of 'Kainkarya Chintamani' and Ahimsa silk shawl. Sri Viswanatha Iyer had earlier served with distinction in Srimatham as manager for a long time and worked hard for the Matham's growth; he was now in his old age.

A large number of devotees from various parts of the country came to Karvetnagar and had darshan of the two Acharyas. Sri Acharya Swamigal was conducting Nitya Poojas.

On 8th July, the day of Vyasa Pooja and commencement of Chaturmasya Vratam, it was a rare elevating sight to have darshan of the two Acharyas in joint procession. It was as if Paramatma, the embodiment of Gnana, was walking with his pet child. They completed Poojas and undertook Chaturmasya Vratam in a mandapam near Sri Venugopalaswamy temple here. Prasadam from divinities from many parts of the country were offered to the Acharyas.

Hindu Religious Forum

Having toured all over Tamil Nadu and looked over the prevalent conditions, Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal felt the need to establish an organization on behalf of Srimatham in order to inculcate religious feelings in people and carry out religious services. That thought bore fruit in this camp at Karvetnagar.

Sri Acharya Swamigal convened a meeting on 1st August 1971 in the Sannidhi of Sri Venugopalaswamy, attended among others by ex-Minister Sri Manradiar, Sri Sa.Ganesan and others. Sri Swamigal launched the Hindu Religious Forum at this meeting. From that day this organisation has been functioning as a religious service arm of Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham with the blessings and encouragement of the Guru and has formed branches in Tamil Nadu and other states. (Details of this Forum can be found in the list of services rendered by Srimatham in Appendix).

For two months, people constantly enjoyed the darshan of the two Acharyas. Visvarupa yatra took place on 5th September 1971. The two Acharyas completed the Vrata Poorthi sankalpam.

Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal started on his third Vijaya Yatra now from Karvetnagar camp itself with the benediction of his Guru Sri Paramacharya.

From the known history of Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham, it appears that Jagadguru Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal was the first Acharya to undertake a yatra to Karnataka state. At Munabahulu, Sri Swamigal visited Sri Anjaneya temple and also gave away awards to Pandithas of Vyasaraaya Matham, which is a Madhva matham. At Kolar, thousands enjoyed watching Sri Chandramouliswara Pooja. Sri Swamigal addressed the meeting of Viswa Hindu Parishad. The next day was Pradosha pooja day. After halting at Doorvaninagar and addressing people there, he visited Army Red Cross Society. Servicemen who become handicapped during service are taken care of here. Servicemen, seated in wheel chairs, welcomed Sri Swamigal. Sri Swamigal gave them individually fruit, milk, grapes and candy together with Vibhuti and Kunkum. This touched the heart of everyone present. The extent of consolation that the servicemen, who had injured themselves while fighting for the nation, received at the compassionate hands of Sri Swamigal was indeed great.

The representatives included Samsthana Pandithas and royal officers. The crowd was very large; it appeared as if entire Bengaluru had come down there!

To the accompaniment of Nadaswaram music, bhajans and Kavadi, with Poorna Kumbhams being offered now and then and Arati being offered by women, the procession

Devasthanam authorities extended to Sri Acharya Swamigal temple honours including 'Parivattam' (headgear) as per Vaishnava tradition. On 30th September Sri Swamigal shifted to Sri Pattabhirama temple.

The Sadas was conducted from 30th September to 5th October 1971. During the Sadas Sri Acharya Swamigal honoured Kulittalai Sri Balasubramania Ghanapathigal with the title of 'Bhashyamani', a Kashmir shawl and a cash award of Rs.5000/-. The Veda Agama Silpa Sadas concluded on 5th October. The presence of Sri Andavan Swamigal, Mysore Ganapathi Sri Sachidananda Swamigal and Udipi Sri Pejavar Matha Swamigal along with Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal on the same platform in the valedictory function that day brought to the fore the strength and grandeur of (Avadhanam involves the partial improvisation of poems using specific themes, metres, forms, or words. It requires immense memory power and tests a person’s capability of performing multiple tasks simultaneously. The tasks vary from making up a poem spontaneously in response to questions from a number of persons to keeping a count of a bell ringing at random. No external memory aids are allowed while performing these tasks. Satavadhani is one who successfully performs Avadhanam with a hundred questioners; Ashtavadhanam with eight). Sita is ‘Avanisutha’ – daughter of earth. When Sri Narasimha Bharati IV of the Sringeri Sarada Peetham was on his tours, he camped here in Avani for a few days. At that time he found an idol of Devi Sarada, in standing posture flanked by Adi Sankara and Sri Chakra. Religious themes were exhibited in many decorated vehicles. The procession included display of variegated fine arts, bhajans and other group activities. This colourful pageant started from Sri Sankara Matham in Malleswaram and, wending its way through Swastik Circle, Gandhi Road, Palace Road and Fort, it ended in Sri Venkata-ramanaswamy temple by midnight. Later in the public meeting in the Town Hall there was unprecedented crowd. This was the day when agitations were held for making Kannada the main language. It was remarkable that the leaders, who wished to deprive Tamil language of any recognition, had come and received the Jagadguru from Tamil Nadu. Is there need for greater proof for the fact that spirituality is beyond language differences?

Sri Acharya Swamigal went to Mercara, the Kudagu district headquarters on 12th November and had darshan of Sri Omkareswara. In the Town Hall reception, Maj Gen Cariappa also joined. The district superintendent of police translated Sri Swamigal's speech in Samskrit to Kannada.

Talaikkaveri

Sri Acharya Swamigal reached Talaikkaveri on 14th November. Bhagamandala is the place where the river Kaveri is joined by two tributaries, the Kannike and the mythical Sujyoti river and where Bhaganda Maharishi offered Pooja. It is the practice to offer worship to Sri Bhagandeswara here first and then to proceed to Talaikkaveri. Jagadguru also followed this tradition. After worshipping Sri Bhagandeswara, he went to Talaikkaveri, did Sankalpa, performed Tulasnanam and Kaveri Pooja. The next day also he completed bath and Pooja in Talaikkaveri and returned to Bhagamandala, where he camped for five days.

Sri Swamigal offered Sri Manjunatheswara a golden Bilva garland. A special feature in the temple here is that Pothi of Madhva sampradaya performs Pooja. All pilgrims visiting the temple are given free food. The traditional trustee of this temple is Sri Heggade, who is a Jain. People consider him as Lord Manjunatheswara incarnate. All disputes are referred to him by people willingly for adjudication. His word is final. He made all arrangements for Sri Swamigal's camp here. He performed Pada Pooja and honoured Sri Swamigal with shawls. Jagadguru also blessed him with Ahimsa silk shawl.

Hindu Religious Procession

On the valedictory day of the Veda Agama Silpa Sadas there was a gigantic Hindu religious procession. The scale of this procession was so grand that the entire religious world, not just the Kerala public, had never witnessed such a one before. Religious exhibits were shown in 40 trucks. There were floats of Kailasa, Adi Sankara with disciples, Sabarimala, Palani, Tirupati Lord Venkatesa, Vinayaka, Guruvayurappan, Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya etc. and demonstrations of Kali dance, Mahabharata scene, Rama's coronation, bhajan, peacock dance, Kavadi, Karagam, Kathakali and Kolattam. 21 Nadaswarams and Tavils emitted auspicious music. Panchavadya music joined in. Decorated umbrellas and men and women marched on both sides of the road. The crowd was very large. The sight of Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal wearing flower coronet, seated on an elephant was indeed inspiring. There was the noise of firecrackers too. Will any amount of description provide the joy of witnessing in person? It took many hours for the procession to pass. The Police did a fine job of controlling the procession in an organized manner. In his Anugraha bhashanam later, Sri Swamigal dwelt upon the special features of Hinduism and the strength of spiritual power. The large crowd present listened with rapt attention; it was indeed unique. It was a feat accomplished by Sri Swamigal to get the Nair Sangam president Sri Vasudevan and S.N.D.P. president Sri Achyuthan to sit on the same dais and address on this occasion. Sri Swamigal blessed everyone and honoured the organizers. He then left the next day by a motorboat for Vaikkam.

Vaikkam is Siva sthala. Annadanam is the established tradition in this place. Sri Acharya Swamigal accordingly arranged for Annadanam through Srimatham. On this occasion Sri Swamigal appreciated the services of Sri Mannath Padmanabhan. Sri Acharya Swamigal then reached Varkala via Ambalappuzha and Kollam. On 13th March 1972 he was received grandly at the place called Saakkai by the chairman of Travancore Devaswom board amid Veda ghosham, instrumental music and Panchavadyam, with caparisoned elephants in front. Sri Acharya Swamigal conducted Vasantha Navarathri Poojas in Koyikkal palace. It was 3 p.m. every day when the Pooja would be over and Tirtha Prasadam given. Every night Sri Swamigal gave Anugraha bhashanam. There was the conference of Samskrit vidvans one day; Tantris' conference another two days. In Tantris' conference Sri Swamigal honoured 24 Tantris with awards and blessed the idea of having a Tantra Pathasala in Malappuram district in order to train Tantris to conduct Poojas in temples as per Sastras.

He also had darshan at the ancient Sri Mahadeva temple, which has Sannidhis for all three Murthis - Brahma, Vishnu and Siva. This area was known as Kaandalurchalai in earlier times. Here Sri Swamigal addressed a crowd of over 2000 people. In his Anugraha bhashanam he touched upon the need of bhakti, religious awareness, purity in life etc.

In Karamanai, Sri Acharya Swamigal paid a visit to the central prison. Sri Swamigal advised prisoners to cultivate peace of mind and faith in Bhagavan and to turn over a new leaf when they emerge from the prison with change of heart and lead a good life. The way Sri Swamigal went to each cell in which prisoners, who had been condemned to hang, were housed and met those prisoners individually and gave them Prasadam with blessings caused wonder and touched everyone's heart. Sweet rice was brought in six large containers from Srimatham and distributed among all prisoners.

Sri Acharya Swamigal also laid the foundation stone for Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Sankara Bhagavat Paduka Mandapam in Karamanai. During the camp of Sri Swamigal in Tiruvananthapuram, which came to a close on 30th March, there was some religious programme at some place or the other every day. His visit gave fresh fillip to Hinduism in Vadakkankulam.

Sri Acharya Swamigal then went to Idindakarai, where thousands of fishermen gathered in Sri Siddhi Vinayaka temple and welcomed him. In his Anugraha bhashanam, Sri Swamigal asked them to be proud of their ancestry coming down from Bhagavan Vyasa, blessed them and gave them picture of Vyasa. After performing Pournami Pooja in Valliyur, he reached Nanguneri, where he was received by the Agent of Vanamamalai Matham and others and taken in procession. Sri Swamigal had darshan at Sri Totadri Swamy temple and offered silk attire to the lord.

Though it was 10 p.m. a large crowd had gathered in front of Sri Ananda Vinayaka temple to receive Sri Acharya Swamigal. The streets were decorated with coloured flour designs; women performed Aarti. Sri Swamigal went straight to the temple and had darshan of Lord Subrahmanya. He decorated the Lord with a golden pendant. Thousands of people had darshan of Sri Swamigal and enjoyed witnessing Sri Chandramouliswara Pooja. The pilgrims regarded themselves fortunate to have darshan of Gnanapanditha and Gnanaguru simultaneously.

This sthala is famed as one of the six ‘Padaiveedus’ of Lord Subramahmanya. Nakkeerar has sung in high praise of this sthala in ‘Tirumurugatruppada’. This sthala is also hailed as Jayanthipuri and ‘Tiruchcheeralaivai’. Lakhs of people gather here to witness ‘Surasamharam’ during Skanda Shashti celebrations. The ocean waves worship the lord here with enthusiastic noise. Adi Sankara sang the famed ‘Subramania Bhujangam’ here, prodded by Lord Siva of Gokarna. Sri Kumaragurubara Swamigal was brought here as a dumb child of five, whom the Lord blessed with not just speech, but made him into a great poet.

He was keen to fulfil the need of the hour. He was received with the police band playing music. Sweet rice was served to the prisoners. Sri Swamigal spoke to them consolingly and advised them to reform themselves and blessed. It was striking that Sri Swamigal met individually each prisoner condemned to death by hanging and spoke soothingly. When Bhagavan in human form cared for them, met them and spoke benedictory words, many were brought to tears; many wept inconsolably. Even the prison officials and others could not control their tears. Such is the power of spirituality and grace!

Sankara Jayanthi in Tirunelveli

Tirunelveli is a very sacred place in ‘Tenpandi’ area of Tamil Nadu. It has the distinction of being ‘Paadal Petra sthalam’ (sung by one of the four great Saivite Nayanmars). Here in the Siva Linga, there is only 'Avudaiyar' or the base; there is no upper cylindrical part; a cover is put instead. Lord: Atmanatha. Sri Swamigal had darshan of the Lord.

The temple was built by Manickavachakar himself out of a sudden intuition, using the funds he had taken from the Pandya king for buying horses. It is uniquely beautiful in design and sculpture. The figures on vimanas and gopurams are so realistic that it is difficult to believe they are of stone; the intricate carvings that show even veins in the forms of Devatas are spell-binding. Sthala vriksha (tree): 'kurunda' tree.

Many people were delighted to witness the rare event. Out of the five Sphatika Lingams brought by Sri Adi Sankara from Kailasam, one named Varalingam was placed by him at Chidambaram. Hence it was but appropriate that Sri Acharya Swamigal chose to decorate the Lord here with Abhaya hastham.

Built with public donations, it has sculptures of the Pallava, Chola, Pandiya and Hoysala styles. There are three Prakaras (circuits). The Rajagopuram in the south has three tiers and is of Pandiyan architecture. There are musical pillars too. Ganapathi Sthapathi with his team of fifty sculptors was in charge of the temple architecture. The stone for the Moolavar was sourced from a hill in Tirunelveli. The beautiful temple was erected over a period of eight years at a cost of Rs.15 lakhs. The Sankaracharya of Jyotir Matham had laid the foundation stone for the Garbhagriha (sanctum sanctorum) on 26th April 1970. This Sankaracharya, Puri Sri Niranjana Tirtha Swamigal and Smt. He later reached Deva Prayag. There are five such important Tirthas known by the name of Prayag on the way to Badrinath. They are:

Deva Prayag, the place of confluence of Bhagirathi and Alaknanda rivers.

Rudra Prayag, where Mandakini from Kedarnath joins Alaknanda. Narada is said to have attained beatitude with his musical sadhana here.

Karna Prayag, where Pinda river joins Alaknanda. Pinda is the river where Pandavas offered Tarpanam to Karna after they knew of the truth of his birth.

Nanda Prayag, where Nanda river joins Alaknanda.

Vishnu Prayag, where Dhavala Ganga (Vishnu Ganga) joins Alaknanda.

Sri Acharya Swamigal arranged for erection of the idol of Adi sankara in all these five important Tirthas.

In this yatra the assistance rendered by BSF is unforgettable. Sri Swamigal distributed Hanuman Chalisa booklets among them. There are five Badri kshetras in popular reckoning. They are: Badri Vishal or Badrinath.

Yoga Badri or Dhyana Badri. Sri Swamigal celebrated Sarada Navaratri here. As Pandavas had darshan of the Lord here on their way to Swarga, this place is also known as Pandukeswaram. Utsava Vighraha of Badri Narayana is kept here during the six winter months.

Narasimha Badri.

Vruddha Badri.

On Makara Sankranthi day, he blessed all people along with Sri Santhananda Swamigal of Jyotir Matham. On 16th January he went by boat to the other bank of Ganga and had darshan of Someshwar.

At Kashi, Sri Acharya Swamigal camped in the Raja's palace from 21st January to 14th February. The camp shifted to Srimatham in Hanumanghat from 15th February to 10th March. The highlight of the camp was the Kumbhabhishekam of Sri Kamakotiswara temple built in Chola style on Ganga coast by Sri C.S.Ramachandran family at a cost of Rs.8 lakhs. The deities in the temple were patterned after the Vedic Panchayatana system. At the entrance one can see images of Rama Pattabhishekam and Sri Adi Sankara with his four disciples. The marble image of Raja Rajeswari is beautiful. Kamakotiswara is the Moolavar; there are Sannidhis for Vishnu, Devi, Surya, Ganapathi, Subrahmanya, Ganga Devi, Sastha and Navagrahas. At the Pirganj border, Sri Swamigal laid the foundation for an Arch in memory of the visit of Sri Sankaracharya; this Arch was completed later. At the instance of Sri Swamigal, a welcome Archway saying 'Welcome to Nepal-the only Hindu Kingdom in the world' was also put up at the border.

Pundalika was very devoted in the service of his infirm aged parents. Krishna and Rukmini came to Pandharpur from Dwaraka in order to see this for themselves. As Pundalika was busy attending to his parents when the divine couple arrived, he gave them a brick (Vit) to stand on till he would be free to receive them. Later when Krishna said to him to ask for a boon, he wished that they should continue to stand (sthal) on the brick (vit) and give darshan to devotees at all times and bless them. Krishna is hence known here as Vithal (Vit + Sthal).

Ganapathi called out to Ravana soon after and as he did not return immediately, he placed the Lingam on the ground. Ravana came and tried to take it away. He could not dislodge it from the ground despite all his strength. In this process the Lingam took the shape of cow's ear. Ravana had to go to Lanka leaving the Siva Lingam behind at Gokarnam. The Lord is known as Mahabaleswar, as Ravana failed to remove him from the ground. The 75th anniversary of Peetharohanam of Sri Paramacharya Swamigal was celebrated on a grand scale by Hindu Religious Forum at Chennai from 6th to 11th December. On the concluding day Sri Swamigal addressed the gathering. He said:

“We are beholden to our parents. It is only Hindu religion that asserts that mother and father are Gods. The third entity we must worship as God is Guru, without whom our life would be useless. He elevates us and our Atma. Jagadguru is one who prays for the welfare of the entire world. Dakshinamurthy was the first Jagadguru. Bhagavan Krishna was called Jagadguru as he taught Bhagavad Gita. Adi Sankara, who came following his footsteps, came to be known as Jagadguru. Many people, who would not know Kamakoti Peetham, recognise and respect one who is called Sankaracharya. That is the greatness of the lamp that was lit by Adi Sankara. In the unbroken tradition of Kamakoti Peetham, that light has been showing the way of Gnana continuously.

We have two sets of responsibilities – one as Sanyasi and the other as Mathadhipathi. Sri Paramacharya told me on my coming to the Peetham that pleasure and pain should be treated equally. There is no greater debt of gratitude than Guru bhakti. There is none equal to Guru. Adi Sankara says: one can convert iron into gold by use of sparsamani

(philosopher's stone); but iron cannot be converted into sparsamani. Guru on the other hand is like that rare sparsamani, which produces another sparsamani by converting his disciple. That is his grace. Coral is precious. Our Guru is like coral to us. We should remember him always and act as per his teachings.”

Dr.Karan Singh also spoke on Guru' greatness. Competitions were held for students and prizes distributed. In the Samskrit Day celebrations on 12th December, Sri Acharya Swamigal spoke on the greatness of Samskrit language and honoured Sri Ramadesikan, who had translated Bharatiyar's works from Tamil into Samskrit. Sri Swamigal visited many parts of Chennai.

At the request of devotees of Tiruchi, Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal agreed to perform Kumbhabhishekam of Uchi Pillaiyar temple in Tiruvanaikka. Sri Swamigal reached Tiruvanikka on 26th January 1983. After performing Kumbhabhishekam and having darshan of Thayumanavar (Matrubhuteswara), Sri Swamigal left for Pondicherry and arrived at Chennai on 8th February. He went to several parts of Chennai as before and blessed throngs of people.

Hindu Religious Forum's cultural festival was celebrated at Chennai from 30th March to 3rd April under the guidance of Sri Swamigal. The first day, 30th March was observed as Children's day. In the festival, competitions were held in various arts and hundreds of prizes distributed. Chanting of Suprabhatam, Tirumurai etc. was conducted. An Arts exhibition was opened. Scholars including Dr.N.Mahalingam, Ma.Po.Si., Adinam heads and Avvai Natarajan spoke. As requested by Hindus of Malaysia, a compilation of Hindu religious stotras titled 'Arutkalanjiyam' (Compilation of Grace) was released. Further the book in Tamil 'Sri Jayendra Vijayam-Part 1' compiled by Pu.Ma.Jaya Senthilnathan, Srimatham Asthana Vidvan, was also released. Youth Day was celebrated on 1st April. Many events were held in which college students took part. Tirukkurala V.Munuswamy and others spoke. Harijan Day was celebrated on 2nd April. A large procession was taken out in the evening. Poets' Day was observed on 3rd April. Speakers included Vali, Ki.Va.Ja. and Soundara Kailasam. Sri Swamigal distributed tools and implements and bank loans to Harijans and the downtrodden and paved the way for their social awakening and upliftment. Cultural programmes including Villuppattu, Bommallattam etc. were held in the evenings.

Sri Acharya Swamigal reached Sriharikota in Andhra Pradesh on 30th April. After going round the Space Research Centre and blessing the scientists and technologists, Sri Swamigal returned to Chennai on 6th May via Nellore. He then went to Villupuram and celebrated on 27th May the Jayanthi of Sri Paramacharya Swamigal. He returned to Kanchipuram the next day.

On 29th May 1983 an important milestone in the Guru Parampara of Kanchi Kamakoti peetham was reached. Sri Sankara Vijayendra Saraswathi Swamigal was appointed as the 70th Sankaracharya of the Peetham. Before this Sri Sankaran visited Sri Paramacharya in his camp near Hyderabad along with his parents and got his blessings. His family is that of Vedic scholars. Thandalam near Ponneri close to Chennai is his native place. Sri Sankaran's father, Sri Krishnamurthy Sastrigal, a Telugu brahmana, teaches Rig Veda in the Kainkarya Sabha Pathasala in Thandalam. He and his wife Smt.Ambalakshmi have five male and five female children. Sri Sankaran is the fifth child. He was born on 13th March 1969. He studied Rig Veda for seven years in the Pathasala where his father teaches and won many prizes.

The preliminary ceremonies of initiation of Sri Sankaran into Sanyasa commenced two days prior to the day of actual initiation, viz. Sunday, 29th May. He had kept awake and engaged in Japa the previous night as required. He was brought to the holy tank of Sri Kamakshi Devi temple at 5.15 a.m. that day. Thousands witnessed the event. Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal reached soon after. Sri Sankaran took holy bath in the tank. Sri Acharya Swamigal offered him saffron clothes, Kamandalu and Danda (staff) amid Vedic chanting, instrumental music and devotees' chant of 'Jaya Jaya Sankara, Hara Hara Sankara'. Sri Acharya Swamigal then taught him the Mahavakya. Both the Acharyas had darshan of Devi Kamakshi and Adi Sankara. Both of them performed 1008 Kalasa Abhishekam to Devi. They were then taken in a grand procession to Srimatham.

On 1st June 1983, the 90th Jayanthi of Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya Swamigal was celebrated at Kanchipuram. Sri Acharya Swamigal attended, together with Tondai Mandala Adinam Guru. Sri Swamigal released a book titled 'Sekkizhar vazhiyil Sivasthalangal' (Sivasthalas shown by Sekkizhar) by Pu.Ma.Jaya Senthilnathan.

ELEVENTH VIJAYA YATRA

Vijaya Yatra to Andhra Pradesh

(From June 7, 1983 to March 10, 1985)

Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal has always shown keen interest in having darshan at Tirupati. Sri Swamigal left Kanchipuram on 7th June 1983 and worshipped the Lord at Tirumala on 8th June. After having darshan of Devi Padmavathi at Tiruchanur and, proceeding via Nellore, Ongole and Guntur, Sri Swamigal reached Vijayawada. A large crowd of devotees welcomed him. After visiting several places nearby, he came back to Vijayawada and then went to Guntur. He then arrived at Kurnool and joined Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya Swamigal, who was there while on his north Indian yatra. Sri Bala Swamigal (Sri Sankara Vijayendra Saraswathi Swamigal), who had just ascended the Peetham, also came from Kanchipuram and joined. All the three Acharyas performed Chaturmasyam together for the first time at Kurnool.

The camp was on the bank of river Aindri. Many devotees from all parts of India came to this secluded place, endowed with natural beauty, for darshan. Vyasa pooja was conducted on 24th July. After completing Chandramouliswara Pooja at 5 a.m., the three Acharyas went to the river, had vapanam and holy bath. The beauty and grandeur of the procession of the Acharyas from the riverbank to the camp was to be seen to be believed. Prasadams from temples from various nooks and corners of India were offered to the Acharyas. Sri Paramacharya commenced the Vyasa pooja at 10.30 a.m. and completed by 4.15 p.m. More than fifty thousand people watched the Pooja. There was a light drizzle throughout the day and it turned into heavy rain in the night. After Punarpooja was completed the next day in the morning, Vidvat Sadas was held. Many programmes were conducted during the two-month period. On completion of Chaturmasya Vratam, Visvarupa yatra was held on Thursday, 22nd September. Sri Paramacharya Swamigal, who had been away from Kanchipuram for six years on yatra, was requested by Sri Acharya Swamigal and many devotees to return to Kanchipuram. After completing Navaratri Pooja at Kurnool camp, the three Acharyas left on Vijayadasami day, 16th October. Sri Paramacharya's Padayatra in his advanced age moved everybody. The yatra wended its way slowly.

The yatra reached Chittur on 2nd February 1984. The three Acharyas entered Tamil Nadu border on 5th February. A large crowd including many dignitaries gave a rousing reception. The Acharyas performed Kumbhabhishekam of Jalakantheswara temple at Vellore. For two days, 10th and 11th February, the state level conference of Hindu Religious Forum together with seminar and poets' conclave were held at Vellore. Sri Balavarayan, Tamil professor, read out a poem on the divinity and grace of the three Acharyas appearing together. Sri Paramacharya Swamigal honoured him. The Kumbhabhishekam for Parivara Devatas in Jalakantheswara temple was performed on 12th February. The yatra proceeded ahead and camped at Kalavai for two weeks. The next major halt was at Tirupputkuzhi, a Divya Desam sung by Alwars and Mangalaasaasanam pronounced.

The three Acharyas entered Kanchipuram on 13th April 1984. A grand reception was accorded on the banks of Sarvatirtham tank. Thousands had gathered. Everyone was happy at the fact that Sri Paramacharya, who had left Kanchipuram on yatra on the Tamil New year Day of 14th April 1978, had returned in time for the Tamil New Year Day in April 1984. A grand Pattinapravesam was held. The Acharyas had darshan of Ekamreswara. A magnificent public reception was held just outside the temple. The moment Sri Paramacharya reached the Pandal, the tyre of the cycle-rickshaw, which he used to hold while walking, burst. Perhaps the divine will that Sri Paramacharya should continue to bless people from Kanchipuram soil only was expressed this way! A welcome address was read out. By the time the Acharyas went round the car streets and reached Srimatham, it was 3 a.m.

On 14th April, Tamil New Year Day, free marriages were conducted for 108 poor couples in Kachapeswara temple. Sankara jayanthi was celebrated on 2nd May. Ani Tirumanjanam was celebrated on 5th July in Ekamreswara temple for the Nataraja idol there. (There are six days in a year on which Abhishekam is performed for Nataraja. Ardra Darisanam in Margazhi and Ani Tirumanjanam are the two most important of the six occasions.) Srimatham had organized for 108 Oduvars to assemble on the occasion. They came singing Tirumurai in procession in the morning, following Nataraja and Sivakamasundari. A grand sight indeed! They chanted Tirumurai the whole day. In the evening they were all honoured by the Acharyas. Six of the Oduvamurthys were given special honour of golden bracelet and title of 'Tamil Marai Isai Mamani' (Great jewel in singing of Tamil Veda). This was indeed unique!

1984 marked the golden jubilee of Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal. Many religious and welfare schemes were in the works. One was publication of Adi Sankara's Stotra books with translation. The books were released at a function held under the auspices of Hindu Religious Forum on 12th August in Kamakshi temple. Prasadam from 50 temples in Kanchipuram were submitted to Sri Swamigal on the occasion. Workers of fifty different categories offered 50 types of garlands to Sri Swamigal. A van was donated to the Hindu Mission Hospital at Tambaram for attending on leprosy patients in Chengai district. Tools for assisting the downtrodden were distributed. A poets' conclave was held. Many scholars read out poems touching upon the exalted Guru Parampara of Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham and Jagadguru Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal's qualities of simplicity, bewitching smile, quick solutions for difficult problems, encyclopaedic knowledge and vision and the many, many projects initiated by him for advancement of Vedic and religious knowledge as well as modern day education and public health.

Golden chariot for Kamakshi Devi was got ready and run on 6th September 1984. It was exhilarating to see Devi riding the golden chariot along the four car streets. On this occasion Sri Paramacharya honoured two commentators of Tirumurai with a title and golden coin. Sri Acharya Swamigal laid the foundation stone for Rajagopuram works of Kumara Kottam temple. Further free marriages were celebrated for 108 couples in Ekamreswara temple.

During the 1000th year celebrations of Raja Raja Chola, who had built the famous Brihadiiswara temple in Thanjavur, a golden crown of 300 gms. weight was placed on the utsava deity of the king on 16th September. Funds for uninterrupted Poojas at that temple were also arranged. A book titled 'Stone Inscriptions of Sivapada Sekhara' in Tamil by Sri V.Mahadevan was released. Many such activities were performed during the year.

When clashes affected Hindus and Sikhs in Punjab, Sri Acharya Swamigal was quick to send a cash donation of Rs.25000/- and flour worth Rs.5000/- to help them.

Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal selected ten important activities to be undertaken during this Golden Jubilee year. These are:

1. Renovation and performance of Kumbhabhishekam for at least 50 temples.

Temples renovated include those for Vinayaka, Siva, Vishnu, Subrahmanya, Mariamman and Grama Devatas. Renovation works included Vimanas, Rajagopurams, idol Pratishthas etc. The number of temples renovated far exceeded the expected 50.

2. Providing funds to temples lacking funds for even Poojas.

3. Honouring and extending financial assistance to 50 scholars well versed in Vedas and Sastras.

4. Publication of Adi Sankara's 50 Stotras with Tamil and English translation.

The actual number of Stotras published came to 86. In addition, many other religious books including Adi Sankara's history, Hindu religion, Ramayana And Mahabharatam for children, Bhajan songs, Devara, Divya Prabandha compilation, moral stories etc. were released.

5. Giving stipends to 50 students for pursuing higher studies in Samskrit or philosophy.

6. Planting Bilva trees in temples.

7. Construction of hospitals for poor and economically backward people.

8. Provision of Go salas and maintaining them.

9. Opening classes in schools for Stotras.

Devara Pathasalas were started and simple books on Tirumurais published and distributed free.

10. Conducting competitions in schools and colleges and awarding prizes and medals.

People supported the above projects financially. Editor of 'Saavi', Tamil magazine, appealed to the public for donations and passed on the collections to Srimatham. Committees were formed in districts and collections made. All the above activities were taken up in every district town very enthusiastically. Reading of the account of the actual details of completed works will stun every devotee of Srimatham. They were not only wide ranging, but also deeply penetrative.

On 6th January 1985, Tiruvadirai day, Pavai Parayanam was held in Amaresa Perumal temple. Over 2000 children participated, chanting Pavai, in a procession from Ekameswara temple along the four car streets. At the entrance to Srimatham Sri Paramacharya Swamigal saw the procession and blessed the children. Prizes were distributed in the evening to children who were victorious in the Pavai competition held.

On 26th January all three Acharyas worshipped Sri Annapoorani after decorating with golden cover. On 24th February the Golden Jubilee function was held in Kanchipuram on a very grand scale. Many dignitaries participated. Sri R.Venkataraman, Dr.Shankar Dayal Sharma, governor and ministers attended. A special free medical camp was run for many days; 100 doctors took part; 3000 poor patients were treated.

THIRTEENTH VIJAYA YATRA

Vijaya Yatra to Kedarnath

(From April 27, 1985 to August 10, 1987)

Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal left Kanchipuram on 27th April 1985 and reached Bengaluru via Vellore.

Karnataka

Sri Acharya Swamigal camped at Sri Sankara Matham in Malleswaram in Bengaluru. There was a huge Hindu religious procession on 11th May, consisting of floats depicting the principles of Hinduism, pictures of great saints, bhajans, different types of musical instruments, fireworks, folk dances etc. Sri Swamigal accompanied this procession. Flowers were dropped from above from aircraft. Crowds were very huge; it looked as if the entire city of Bengaluru had assembled to witness this extravaganza.

Sri Swamigal then went to Sravanbelgola and saw the idol of Vardhamana. He also saw the sculptures at Belur and Halebid. At Bhadravati he took bath in river Bhadra and conducted Pooja.

Maharashtra

Sri Swamigal reached Karad via Harihar, Hubli and Miraj and took bath in river Krishna. He then went to Satara. It was here that Nataraja temple known as Uttara Chidambaram had been constructed at the instance of Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya Swamigal, who had camped here for over a year in the local Sankara Matham. The temple has Chitsabha similar to the ancient one at Chidambaram. The parapet walls around have embedded stone slabs having murals depicting 108 karanas or dance poses of Bharatanatyam style. Each mural has an inscription of sloka in Samskrit describing the karana. The murals were prepared under the guidance of the famous dancer Dr.Padma Subrahmanyam and approved by Sri Paramacharya. Sri Acharya Swamigal performed the Kumbhabhishekam of this temple in Satara, attended by a large number of devotees.

Sri Acharya Swamigal reached Aurangabad via Paithan. He had darshan of Jyotirlinga at Ghrushneswar nearby. He observed Chaturmasyam in Paithan. During this period, at the conclusion of Bhagavatha Saptaham there, Sri Swamigal called for the Book of Bhagavatham to be taken in a silver chariot in a procession; it was a rare beautiful sight. Annadanam was organised for 15000 people that day.

An interesting development, which brought out the compassionate nature of Sri Swamigal, happened. Sri Swamigal raised a proposal to erect a statue of Sri Adi Sankara in the local Sant Eknath Samadhi Mandir at Paithan. The whole town supported this idea, but one doctor opposed it. As Sri Swamigal was keen to enlist the cooperation of everyone, the idea was dropped. When the time came for Sri Swamigal to leave Paithan on 28th September after spending three months there, the doctor said to him: “Maharaj, I have troubled you much. Please don’t curse me.” Sri Swamigal smiled and said: “Doctor, I did not experience any trouble. The talk of curse is completely wrong. Even if you cut this body into several pieces, each piece will only bless you. I have worn this saffron cloth not for cursing anybody, but for seeing Narayana in everybody.” The offshoot of this expression of compassion was that the same doctor changed his mind, got the statue of Adi Sankara installed in the same place later and invited Sri Swamigal to come and inaugurate it.

Sri Acharya Swamigal had darshan of Triyambakeswar Jyotirlinga and celebrated Navaratri there. He then went to Nagpur, where Deepavali was celebrated.

Madhya Pradesh

At Jabalpur, Sri Acharya Swamigal took holy bath in river Narmada and performed Pooja. He had darshan of the hill temple of Sarada Devi in Mehar. He then reached Chitrakut, the place where Bharata met Rama during his forest life and obtained the Padukas. There is a beautiful Sivalingam here. He bathed in the holy river Mandakini and camped in Ram Mandiralaya.

Uttar Pradesh

Sri Acharya Swamigal went to Allahabad and had holy bath in Triveni Sangamam. He worshipped at Nandigram and then went to Ayodhya and took holy bath in river Sarayu. He returned to Allahabad on 18th February.

Sri Acharya Swamigal performed the Mahakumbhabhishekam of the Adi Sankara Temple in Prayag on 13th March, 1986. The rivers flowing in Bharat are all revered as religious symbols. Bathing in these rivers, specially in their confluence places is a remedy for our sins. Triveni Sangamam is the place where the rivers Ganga, Yamuna and the subterranean Saraswati meet. Prayag, or Allahabad is Triveni kshetram where lakhs of people come from all over the country and take holy bath. This is also the place where Adi Sankara and Kumarila Bhatta met and debated. In order to enable devotees to have darshan of Adi Sankaracharya, after completing their holy bath in Sangamam, this temple for Adi Sankara was built at the instructions of Sri Swamigal, at a cost of Rs. 70 lakhs. At the first level, Shri Kamakshi's idol is installed centrally and the idols of Ganga, Meenakshi, Kali, Yamuna, Saraswati, Lakshmi, Annapurni, Vaishnavi, Gayatri, Sarada, Mahavishnu, Ganapathi, Durga, and Mahishasuramardini are mounted all around. At the second level, Tirupati Sri Venkatesa Swami has been installed at the centre and the idols of Narasimha, Vasudeva, Varaha, Dasavathara murtis, Badri Narayana, Hayagriva, Anjaneya, Sitarama, Guruvayurappan, Suryanarayana, Venugopala, Gajendramoksham and 108 Salagramas are mounted all around. At the third level, Sahasralinga murthi (a huge Siva Linga idol having 1008 small Sivalingas in it) is installed centrally and 108 Sivalingas, different forms of Siva, Dakshinamurthy, Lingodbhava, Brahma, Somasundara and Chandrashekhara are mounted all around. In the internal walls of the Prakaram, events connected with Sri Adi Sankara's avatara and Srimad Ramayanam have been depicted. Chaturveda Parayanam, Veda Sastra Sammelanam, Annadanam for 1000 people etc. formed part of the celebrations. Everyone was awe-struck by the grandeur and religious fervour behind the Temple as well as the Kumbhabhishekam and was grateful for the grace of Sri Swamigal.

Sri Acharya Swamigal went to Nainital and reached the Sakti Peetha sthala known as Vindhyavahini, where Devi gives darshan in the form of Kali. This is said to be the place where Devi told Kamsa that Krishna was already born on earth to kill him. Sri Swamigal went next to Kashi and bathed in many of the holy ghats there. He completed the celebrated Pancha krosa yatra on 7th April. That day he bathed in Manikarnika Ghat in the morning and had darshan of Dundhi Vinayaka, Annapoorani, Viswanatha, Gnana Vadasi Vinayaka, Gnanakupam, Visalakshi and Dharmeswar and took a boat ride from Manikarnika Ghat. He then had darshan of Badarghat Vinayaka, Bhimagundi, Adikeswaram etc. and returned to the camp in the evening. He celebrated Vasantha Navarathri at Kashi. Sri Swamigal visited Sitapur and then moved to Vidura Kutir and Sukratal.

Uttarakhand

Sri Acharya Swamigal then went to Haridwar and performed Pooja. He visited Makaravahini temple built by Srimatham. He also went to Jayaram Ashram, where he saw Ramayana scenes depicted as power-driven puppet show. This is very unique and interesting. He then proceeded to Rishikesh and camped in Andhra Ashram for ten days. Rishikesh is full of natural beauty with river Ganga dropping down the mountain through great heights. Sri Swamigal visited Sivananda Ashram. Sivananda was a Tamilian doctor in Purvasrama, who had worked abroad and helped the poor to tide over sickness. He later took Sanyasa and became Sivananda, a great Gnani and started Divine Life Society branches all over India. The bridge Ram Jhula in Rishikesh is renamed after him and known as Sivananda Jhula.

Sri Acharya Swamigal camped in Dehra Dun, where Sri Paramacharya Swamigal's Jayanthi was celebrated. He then proceeded to Deva Prayag and onwards to Rudra Prayag. At this confluence of Mandakini and Bhagirathi rivers, Sri Swamigal took holy bath and went to Gowrikund.

On 2nd June 1986, Sri Acharya Swamigal had darshan of Kedarnath, one of the Jyotirlinga kshetras. He offered to the Lord a silver Vibhuti strip, silk shawl and a long Rudraksha mala. He also offered a silver cup to the temple for Pooja. Sri Swamigal's visit was inscribed in stone and placed in the temple. Adi Sankara had kept in Kedarnath one of the five Sphatika Lingas he had brought from Kailasa. In course of time that Linga became untraceable. To remove this lacuna, Sri Swamigal installed a new Sphatika Lingam in the temple. He also placed Adi Sankara's books in a casket and had the casket placed in the temple. He got marble plaques installed, depicting the scenes of Adi Sankara's life relating to his visit to Kailasa, getting the five Sphatika Lingas etc. Sri Swamigal also got Adi Sankara's slokas inscribed in large marble plaques, which were placed in Adi Sankara's shrine close to the main temple.

Jagadguru Sri Acharya Swamigal got the songs of Gnanasambandhar on Kedarnath printed, framed and displayed in the temple. He also arranged funds for the Saraswathi Sishu Mandir Pathasala functioning in the Agastyamuni temple nearby for teaching Devaram songs in Tamil to at least a few children. This yatra to Kedarnath marked the completion of Sri Acharya Swamigal's yatra to all the twelve Jyotirlinga kshetras.

Sri Acharya Swamigal returned to Rudra Prayag and proceeded to Joshimutt and Pandukeswaram and reached Badrinath on 13th June. He worshipped Badri Narayana. He then went to Taptakund, where he took bath in the hot waters and performed Pooja. He came back to Rishikesh and spent a few days there. He then went to Haridwar, where he observed Chaturmasyam. Sri Swamigal camped in Birla House. River Ganga flows just touching this bungalow at the back. The river and the hills at the background form a very beautiful and enjoyable sight. At Har ki Powri in Haridwar thousands of people assemble every day, take holy bath in river Ganga, listen to bhajans and discourses on Bhagavatham and other classics and float ghee lamps in the river in the evenings. The Ganga Harati performed elaborately in the evenings on the riverbank and the lamps floating in the river are a divine sight. Sri Swamigal got a tall Stupi installed here in such a way that it is visible for all those who take bath in the river. Adi Sankara with his four disciples is seen at the top of this Stupi. Sri Swamigal also arranged for a week-long training session in religion for teachers during his camp here.

Delhi

He then proceeded to Kharagpur, Gangasagar etc. By following the route of river Ganga right from its Himalayan beginnings at Kedarnath to its progress at Rishikesh and Haridwar towards the plains, and its inexorable push in the plains at Allahabad and Kashi, and finally its merger with the ocean at Gangasagar in Bengal, Sri Acharya Swamigal completed Ganga yatra. He reached Kolkata on 25th December. Thousands welcomed Sri Swamigal with great devotion. Hundreds came and had darshan of the early morning Dhanur Masa poojas. Sri Swamigal acceded to the requests of devotees and camped in several places in Kolkata.

Sri Acharya Swamigal's next major halt was Guwahati in Assam, where he spent four days from 31st January 1987. He worshipped Devi Kamakhya in Kamarup there, one of the most important of the 51 Saktipeethas. He then reached Patna and had bath in rivers Sonebhadra, Kantaki etc. and performed Poojas. Passing via Bhaktiarpur, Dhanbad etc., Sri Swamigal went to Kharagpur, where Maha Sivaratri was celebrated. Thousands cramped themselves and watched the Poojas in the four Yamas in the night.

Thousands gathered in the public meeting held in the evening. The welcome address extolled Sri Swamigal's yatra of 2½ years covering the nook and corner of Bharata Desa and made special mention of his complete Ganga yatra. As per Jagadguru Sri Paramacharya's instructions, Sri Acharya Swamigal was taken in procession on a caparisoned elephant along the major roads of Kanchipuram to Sri Kamakshi temple. Sri Bala Swamigal met him in the Rajavithi, and both Acharyas went to Sri Kamakshi temple and had darshan and arrived at Srimatham.

All the three Acharyas observed Chaturmasyam at Kanchipuram. On 19th July all religious organisations at Kanchipuram gave a grand reception to Sri Acharya Swamigal in Kachapeswara temple. In connection with Sri Paramacharya's 94th Jayanthi celebrations, Sahasra Chandi Homam in Kamakshi temple, Maharudram in Ekamreswara temple and Koti Archana were held. In connection with the 53rd Jayanthi celebrations of Sri Acharya Swamigal on 10th August, Sahasra Swarna Kalasabhishekam and Abhishekam of 1008 litres of milk for Kamakshi Devi were conducted mainly with prayers for good rain. That was the day decided upon by Sri Bala Swamigal for performing Kanakabhishekam to Sri Acharya Swamigal. After darshan of Sri Paramacharya early in the morning, Sri Swamigal proceeded to Sri Kamakshi temple at the head of a large procession chanting slogans of 'Hara Hara Sankara, Jaya Jaya Sankara'. He performed Sahasra Kalaha Abhishekam to Sri Kamakshi with his own hands. All the three Acharyas gave darshan at the Chandramouliswara Pooja, performed by Sri Acharya Swamigal on return after darshan at Kamakshi Devi temple.

Sri Bala Swamigal then took Sri Acharya Swamigal in a grand procession to Kamakshi temple to the accompaniment of Nadaswaram music etc. The Kanakabhishekam was performed in the Navaratri Mandapam. The crowd was so large that the security personnel had a tough time controlling them. First, Kalasabhishekam from the Ayushya Homam was performed. After change of dress Sri Swamigal sat on a golden seat in a special silver plated chair. Sri Bala Swamigal decorated Sri Swamigal with a special Rudraksha mala with a large gem-studded pendant. He performed archana on Sri Swamigal's head with gold coins and flowers alternately. He then placed a golden Kiritam (crown) on Sri Swamigal's head. Thousands of people who witnessed the Kanakabhishekam shed tears of joy. Sri Swamigal honoured Sri Bala Swamigal with a golden headwear. Prasadams from many temples were offered to Sri Swamigal. Honours from many Aadinams and other organisations were offered. Sri Swamigal blessed the gathering.

On the same day in the evening, a public meeting was held in Sri Kachapeswara temple. Bala Swmigal again took Sri Acharya Swamigal in a grand procession to the venue. Dignitaries including Adinam heads attended the meeting. Sri Acharya Swamigal distributed dhotis and saris to 53 poor persons. In his address Sri Swamigal said:

“We should take care of and worship four mothers – mother who gave us birth, Go Matha, Bharata Matha and Jaganmatha Sri Kamakshi. This is the duty of all of us. That country, where cow’s blood and woman’s tears are shed, cannot remain prosperous. We should make serious efforts to avert these.”

Two books were released on this occasion. One was a beautiful commentary on Sri Abhirami Andadi by Kanchipuram Aadinam. The second was on Srimatham and its various services compiled by Sri Jaya Senthilnathan. Two more books were also released on the occasion. One was in Tamil titled “Kanakabhishekams for Sri Kanchi Swamigal”, a book giving details from early times, compiled by Sri V.Mahadevan. The second was a question-answer book on Hinduism.

A home for mentally retarded children, and Kamakoti trade training centre to train youngsters to get jobs, and Sri Jayendra Seva Sangam were declared open. A play on Adi Sankara was also staged. In another temple poor feeding was done.

Appendix 4

TEACHINGS FOR STUDENTS

1. Just as there are two wings for birds, two legs, hands and eyes for man, and two rails for railway train, there should be two qualities in students. They are humility and Guru bhakti. A student having these two qualities will progress.
2. Just as the crane looks for its prey of fish in the rivulet with complete concentration, the student should concentrate on his lessons alone. Concentration is vital for the student; if he has it he will succeed in any test.
3. During holidays like the weekly off days of Saturday and Sunday, student should study books of moral teachings like Tirukkural, Naladiyar etc., stotras like Devaram, Tiruvachakam, Tiruvaimozhi, Tiruppugazh etc. and holy books like Periya Puranam, Kanda Puranam, Kamba Ramayanam etc. He should learn important poems by heart.
4. Students are of three types: (a) intellect of camphor, (b) intellect of charcoal and (c) intellect of banana stem. Student who understands lessons immediately when the teacher teaches has the intellect of the first category, the camphor. Charcoal will catch fire after it has been in contact with fire for quite some time and after external fanning. Similarly the student, who needs private tuition in addition to school teaching, is of the second category in terms of intellect. To make a banana stem catch fire is extremely tough. Similar is the case with the student, who has that type of intellect of the third category.
5. Just as student wishes to wear superior dress and eat great food, he should aspire for getting high marks in examinations. Effort with no letup is required. Effort will ensure progress.
6. It is necessary to do everything at the right time. Right timing will get us the entire earth. Student should get up early in the morning and study. Such a habit will result in good progress. The intellect is fresh and clear in the morning. An ancient saying in Tamil says: 'Study in morning; play in evening'.
7. As knowledge increases with education, student should develop humility. He should be humble in his behavior with parents, teachers and elders. When paddy grains ripen, the plant bends down. The ones which stand erect are weeds. Student should not be erect like the weed. He should bend with humility like the ripe paddy grain.
8. Goldsmith beats the gold while making ornament. It is the beaten gold which becomes beautiful ornament. Similarly when the teacher scolds and punishes the student, the latter should realize that the teacher is doing so for the student's own welfare and should develop greater love for the teacher.

9. One feels aggrieved when another person censures him. Hence we should not reprove others. We should not express others' faults. Tiruvalluvar says: 'It is good conduct to refrain from expressing others' faults.'
10. The aim of education is to attain Bhagavan. Study of books should lead to knowledge of the Almighty.

Our Country

There are five continents in the world. Asia is the best among them. Reason? It is only in Asian continent that religious teachers with great foresight like Adi Sankara, Buddha, Jesus Christ, Mohammed and Guru Nanak incarnated.

Our Bharata khanda is the best in the Asian continent. From times immemorial it is only in our sacred Bharata khanda that Maharishis, men of superior conduct, scholars, poets, liberated men, Siddhas, great sculptors, great men of intellect, men of courage, men of valour, righteous kings and moralists, who laid down guidelines for virtuous living based on Vedas, Puranas and Sastras, incarnated.

The southern part of Bharata khanda has claim to higher, golden share of greatness. It is our loving and respected South that begot high religious Acharyas, who guided the people on the virtuous path so that the culture of people would blossom, virtuous conduct would improve, good civilisational practices would grow, paths of virtue and character would glow, devotion to God would advance through adoption of well laid out modes of worship in temples as per Agama Sastras. This land has yielded incomparable gems of Gurus like the four great Saiva Acharyas, twelve Alvars, four Santhanagurus, Pattinathar, Thayumanavar, Ramanuja, Arunagiriyar and Ramalinga Adigalar; this has not happened in any other land. That is why Saint Manickavachakar has sung: 'Glory to Siva of the South; glory to the Lord of all countries'. The Saint, who entertained the lofty thought of unity that the entire world is one, has brought out the greatness of the South; this evidence is worth pondering. Further the South is noted for its abundance of sky-high temple gopurams, the honey-sweet hymns of Tamil Tirumurais and sacred sthalas.

Mother & Father

The great savant Avvai says: 'Mother and father are the first known gods.' Mother and father are the ones, who sacrifice themselves totally for the sake of their children. None will feel the way parents feel the desire that their children should grow well, study and advance in career and live with name, fame and happiness. The only gods visible to human eyes in this world are mother and father alone. They alone have the claim to matchless love. Hence the primary duty of children is to carry out the good instructions of parents and conduct themselves such that the parents are happy. They should never do anything which would cause pain to the parents. They should realize that the scolding and punishments that the parents mete out is only for their good and obey them with humility; this is the best for them.

Guru

Remembering the adage that Guru, who introduces the child to the world of letters, is indeed God, it is the duty of students to show love and humility to the teacher. Parents help in growth of the body. Teachers help in growth of the intellect. Food helps till it is digested; body helps till death. But the benefit of education learnt from teacher continues through births. Wealth may get destroyed at some point of time; the wealth of learning will increase as learning progresses. Intellect is related to education; body is related to intellect; life is related to the body; God is related to the life. It is teacher who makes the student realize God through education. Hence the wise have placed the teacher on the same pedestal as God. Students should imbibe the high values of the teacher and show him love, humility and devotion.

God

Pray to God. Why? Parents help in growth of the body; teacher helps in growth of intellect; God helps in growth of life. Without God's grace no life can exist on earth. Everybody on this earth including parents and teachers live by the grace of God alone. Those who deny the existence of God also live by the grace of God. It is God who has lovingly provided life, body, food, clothing, land, water, fire, air and space for all living beings to live. God does not expect anything in return for this. All that he wants is that all should lead a life of dharma and be happy. God, who is at the base of everything, bestows compassion on us without expecting anything in return. My dear student gems, do not forget that we are duty bound to worship him daily at least in gratitude for all his benefaction.

Think further. The letters in the alphabet start with 'A'. This is the rule for all languages. Hence our Tamil saint Tiruvalluvar, the great scholar extolled by scholars all over the world, states right at the beginning of his Tamil Veda, Tirukkural: 'Just as all letters have their beginning in 'A', all lives on earth have their beginning in God.' Next he speaks of the benefit of our learning, saying: The only benefit of our learning is to worship at the holy feet of the Mighty Intellect, God.' Not just that; oh man bound in life steeped in worries, do you wish to rid yourself of worries? Then listen, he says: 'Unless one falls at the feet of the One who has no parallel, viz. God, it is impossible to be freed of worries.'

Hence my dear student gems, whatever be the mistakes you commit, do not commit the great fault of saying that God does not exist. However great may be the people who deny the existence of God, do not stand by them; if you stand, it is being ungrateful.

May you worship God every day with devotion and faith and advance in life and be happy.

Moral Teachings

1. Get up from bed before sunrise; it is wrong to sleep at the time of sunrise.
2. While getting up from bed, say: 'Oh Almighty, be gracious to bestow clarity, good thoughts and good education.'
3. Chant the names of God, chanted by your parents; think only of God at that time and pray.
4. Read school lessons a little. Retain important ideas of what you read.
5. Do exercises for a short time; then attend to cleaning of teeth and body. By taking head bath always, clarity of intellect and good health will result.
6. Wear religious marks on your forehead, the same as what your parents wear.
7. Do not feel shy of wearing religious marks. They are one's birthright, tradition and reflection of devotion.
8. Buddhists, Christians and Muslims wear their religious marks with great sense of duty. Why should Hindus alone feel shy?

9. Instead of applying talcum powder on the face, it is much better and conducive to devotion and good health to apply pure Vibhuti mixed with fragrance.
10. Meditate on Almighty God and submit the following prayer.
11. Oh Almighty God, this poor me offers heartfelt worship to you. Be gracious to grant love, dharma and peace everywhere. May everyone live a good life and be happy. May truth and good conduct rise all over the world. Grant goodness all over the country.
12. Chant God's names, same as names chanted by your parents, loudly and with full intensity. Sing devotional songs with humility.
13. Pluck and fetch flowers required for your parents' Pooja and be with them and help. Offer worship to mother, father, Guru and God.
14. Eat whatever is available at home. Do not obstinately ask for food you desire.
15. Then go to school at the right time without fail. If there are temples on the way, offer worship there.
16. Take good care of books and other articles; protect them from damage.
17. Listen carefully with complete attention to what the teacher teaches. Lesson not listened with care will not be retained.
18. Learning not retained and seed planted on stone are useless.
19. Do not discuss with friends anything other than school lessons. If you start talking on other matters, your education will only get spoiled.
20. Do not at all talk about any political party, cinema show or actors. Should one apply mud on oneself at the place of bath?
21. Do not join or support any political party or participate in protests organized by them till completion of education. That would spoil the students' time and future life.
22. Refrain from playful acts of ridicule, and talks that would cause disturbance and trouble. Cultivate friendship with good students and attain good knowledge and virtue.
23. While going to and returning from school, mull over the lessons learnt that day and retain them in mind. Handwritten matter should be of good big size letters.
24. Do not watch cinema shows at all. Cinema shows pave the way for the five great sins. Education, knowledge, eyes, ideas and money – all these five will be lost.
25. In the evenings enjoy natural scenery in open spaces, gardens, river banks etc. and cheer the power of God who created them. Good health and peace of mind will be attained.
26. Love (between persons of opposite sex) is natural for all living beings. It is not necessary to learn about it from fictional stories and novels. It is a great sin to read books of vile quality.

27. By reading books of dharma of the wise, knowledge and spiritual love and conduct will develop. Good food will give good health; good books will confer good qualities.
28. In the evening while returning home, go to the nearest temple and worship God daily or at least once a week. You will secure God's grace.
29. God alone is the fundamental cause of all good that accrues to us. Rely on Him and be happy. Those who relied on Him were never in grief; those who were ungrateful never lived ahead.
30. Only one God pervades the entire universe. There may be many forms and names for Him. But God is only one.
31. To doubt books of morality will bring about destruction. One should never abuse elders.
32. Develop strongly the habit of helping others while still in childhood. Broad-mindedness will improve one.
33. It is very meritorious to protect parents, relatives, others and the educated persons.
34. Behave sweetly and lovingly with all.
35. To speak harsh words is disease of the mouth; it will destroy good qualities of the mind. To speak words of low quality will bring about much evil.
36. Food of human beings is vegetarian. Non vegetarian food is not food of humans. To eat non vegetarian food is a great sin.
37. Truth will lead to higher attainment. Injustice will lead to destruction. Patience will lead to fame.
38. Do not fall for riches, status and vanity; do not fear them also. Appreciate quality and straightforwardness.
39. Be humble; but do not fear evil. Be honest; but do not give way to adharma.
40. Five years of life of dharma is far superior to a thousand years of unjust life.
41. Live life of dharma and be internally happy. Do not live life of violence and spoil yourself and the world.
42. All languages of the world are pre-eminent. Love all languages like your mother-tongue. Let there be no language dispute.
43. Realise the truth that all countries, all religions, all people have been created by one God and love all and lead a loving life.
44. If the country prospers, will we also not prosper?
45. Never think that myself, my language and my country alone should prosper in this wide world. It is selfishness. Wish for the happiness of all.

46. Do not worry about the type of questions that might come up in the examination. Fear will result in forgetting everything. If you write the answers boldly, you will get the right answer.
47. Never indulge in copying. To keep in mind what is learnt and write answers accordingly is the true success.
48. If you have doubts in lessons, ask teachers with humility and learn.
49. Along with history of nation, read history of religions. Reading of political histories will only lead to restlessness. Religious histories will lead to good feelings and virtue.
50. Addresses in political rallies will lead to mental agitation. Remember that religious discourses will enthuse people on to the path of virtue.
51. It is political histories alone which sow the seeds of violent thoughts and hostile feelings. Hence develop the habit of worshipping God, and reading and listening to histories of religion and virtuous ways, right in childhood. You will live with peace, wealth and divine grace.
52. Hostile feelings will impel you to commit sins. Broad mindedness will raise you in fame and merit.
53. Whatever we do will only come back to us. Love given will return as love. If we are hostile, will we not get hostility in return?
54. Do, think and talk anything with love and humility. Everyone will be won over with love. Talk with patience and attain greatness.
55. Mischief, ridicule, stubbornness, falsehood and anger – these five should be abandoned.
56. When parents, teachers and elders scold or punish, realize that it is only for correcting you.
57. Selfishness should be abandoned. Even trees, plants and creepers help others; why not us, humans?
58. Do not think of faults and deficiencies of others. By thinking of them, our mind will get spoiled. Those who can forgive will always be happy.
59. The light-giving Sun helps without expecting anything in return. Same with air. Do not water, fire, earth and space help? Rise by helping relatives and others.
60. Good thoughts developed during childhood will alone blossom in old age and enable advancement. Do good, receive good and be happy.
